Roosevelt Urges New Taxes To Head Off Inflation

HOUSE GROUP WILL CAUCUS ON SATURDAY

President Says No Method Decided Upon For Financing Bonus

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—The senate appropriations committee today agreed upon a method of providing funds for payment of the bonus and new farm program costs which was expected to head off temporarily at least house inflation threats.

Appropriations for both the bonus and the farm program, it was agreed, will be offered as amendments to supply bills which already have passed the house.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—In the face of a sputtering congressional inflation movement, President Roosevelt warned today that the new administration farm program must be financed by taxes but said that methods of financing the $2,249,000,000 bonus still were undecided.

The question of possible additional taxes to amortize the bonus, Mr. Roosevelt said, is being studied by administration advisors.

Congress, seeking to avoid dipping into the taxpayers' pocket during this political campaign year, made clear that the administration will have to initiate any new taxation. A bitter controversy has been threatened in congress over demands for inflation to cover new bonus expenditures.

Caucus Called

The Patman inflation bloc's steering committee of 22 house members called a caucus tomorrow of all supporters of the bonus inflation method of payment. Patman said that more than 200 members would consider the question of formal alliance with other inflation groups.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton of the house ways and means committee, where tax legislation must originate, said:

"Of course if the administration calls on us to do something we will call on them for suggestions."

In regard to the farm program, Mr. Rosevelt made it clear that, if the new farm bill now before congress passes, it will have to be paid for through subsitute taxes. Probably $500,000,000 would

1935 AUTO CRASH FATALITIES DROP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Automobile accidents took 8,799 lives in 86 principal cities of the country last year, the department of commerce reported today.

This compared with deaths of 9,060 in 1934. On a per capita basis the 1935 accidents killed 23.5 persons of every 100,000, compared with 24.2 persons per 100,000 in 1934.

New York City again led in the number of deaths last year, automobiles there killing 1,076 persons compared with 1,141 in 1934.

Deaths in Chicago were 810 against 977 in 1934; Los Angeles, 552, against 599; Detroit 313, against 326; Cleveland 246, against 268; Philadelphia 245, against 264; Baltimore 198, against 223; St. Louis 194, against 156.

STATE EMPLOYES CANCEL WALKOUT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 31.—Six hundred temporary employes decided to remain on the job in the department of motor vehicles today after officials had rescinded an order for Saturday afternoon work.

The employes, already submitting to an extra hour of work daily because of the automobile license plate renewal rush, threatened to walk out if they were required to work Saturday afternoon. Three actually resigned — then asked for reconsideration when they learned the extra work order had been dropped.

State employes work from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., with an hour for lunch, five days a week, and from 9 a. m. to noon on Saturdays.

REOPENS PROBE

Gov. H. G. Hoffman of New Jersey, who has ordered the Lindbergh kidnaping murder case be reopened. District Attorney Wilentz today declared the case "stands as is" and will refuse to reopen it.

SIX DIRECTORS NAMED BY BMA AT ELECTION

SIX SANTA ANA men were declared elected new directors of the Business Men's association of Santa Ana today with the completion of counting ballots mailed in to Secretary-Manager Phil M. Brown of the association.

The newly elected directors are B. H. Baker, Rodney Bacon, Plummer Bruns, Bob Fernandez, Claude Knox and Fred Newcomb. Twelve members of the association were nominated to fill terms made vacant through expiration of terms this year. The men elected were the six receiving the greatest number of votes.

There are nine members of the Business Men's association board of directors. The three holdover members are Walter Swanberger, J. L. Bascom and C. Gilmore Ward.

The six retiring board members are H. P. Rankin, president, Jerry Hall, Ralph Raitt, L. A. Dickey, Fred G. Merker and B. H. Baker, who was reelected. The nominating committee which submitted the names was comprised of Walter Swanberger, C. Gilmore Ward, L. A. Dickey, H. P. Rankin, Hugh J. Lowe and J. L. Bascom.

At a joint meeting of the old and new board of directors to be held next month, new officers to guide the association during the ensuing year will be elected and plans for the activities of the year outlined.

Plans will be discussed for the annual dinner meeting of the association, to be held some time during March.

EXHAUST JURY LIST FOR LAMSON TRIAL

SAN JOSE, Cal., Jan. 31.—David A. Lamson's fourth trial on wife murder charges recessed today to permit county authorities time to assemble a new jury venire of 160 persons. Sessions are to resume Monday.

The unscheduled delay was necessitated when the defense exercised its eleventh peremptory challenge to remove Karl Bracher from the jury box. When Bracher was discharged, there was no one to replace him.

Initial efforts to draw the special venire were unsuccessful when defense and prosecution attorneys agreed many persons listed were ineligible "for various reasons." Forty additional names then were selected, bringing the total number of prospective jurors drawn to date to 450. The number was believed to be a California record.

WILENTZ IN REFUSAL TO OPEN PROBE

Widens Breach With Governor Hoffman By Saying Case "Stands As Is"

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 31.—The Lindbergh baby murder case "stands as is," Attorney General David T. Wilentz said today in a statement which widened the breach between him and Gov. Harold G. Hoffman.

Wilentz, successful prosecutor of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the slaying of Charles Augustus Lindbergh jr., claimed the governor "nor anyone else has introduced a fragment of new evidence in the case."

Hoffman yesterday ordered the investigation in the Lindbergh baby case continued because he said he doubted that Hauptmann, whom he saved from death with a 30-day reprieve, committed the crime alone.

Governor Hoffman, Hauptmann's best friend at court since he entered the death house, posed a long list of questions to Schwartzkopf about the case and demanded weekly reports in writing of his progress toward answering them.

"I am impressed by the evident anxiety of so many people to hurry him (Hauptmann) to his death when too many questions are still unanswered which he may help to solve," Hoffman wrote.

"There is evidence, abundant evidence, that other persons participated in the crime, and there is absolutely no reason why our law enforcement agencies should regard the case as closed."

Questions the governor listed as important and unanswered included many raised by testimony of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Dr. John F. (Jafsie) Condon. Lindbergh is in England and Condon in South America. Probably only their return and submission to interrogation could answer some of Hoffman's questions.

PEACH GROWERS TO SUE EX-OFFICERS

MODESTO, Cal., Jan. 31.—First of a number of lawsuits anticipated by the California Canning Peach Growers' association to collect approximately $28,000 from former officials and allegedly favored members of the concern awaited filing of briefs and adjudication in superior court here today.

Superior Judge Roy B. Maxey, after a lively hearing, ordered association attorneys and counsel for E. R. Williams, former cooperative vice president, and other defendants to submit their case on briefs within 10 days.

AWALT TO RESIGN AS TREASURY AIDE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—F. G. Awalt, who piloted the nation's banks through the 1933 bank crisis, will soon resign as deputy comptroller of the currency and take up private law practice, it was learned today.

Awalt, who has been with the federal treasury 16 years, was acting controller of the currency from September 1932 to April, 1933, a period when federal authorities were confronted with the banking crisis.

GOLD DREDGING SETS NEW HIGH

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31. — Natomas company, California gold dredging and land concern, today reported the highest quarterly income in its history.

During the final quarter of 1935, figures disclosed, the company earned a net income of $307,950.68, including overhead deductions. Officials said it is equivalent to 36 cents a share on 995,820 outstanding shares of stock.

President's Birthday Is Celebrated In S. A.

RESIDENTS of Santa Ana did their bit last night toward helping relieve victims of infantile paralysis, at the Third Annual President's Birthday ball. The celebration here was divided into two sections, the dance held at American Legion Hall, and the card party at Ebell clubhouse.

According to Mrs. A. G. Flagg, hostess for the dance, and chairman of the committee on patrons and patronesses, more than 175 people danced at Legion hall during the evening.

Mrs. C. V. Davis, general chairman of the women's committee, in charge of the card party estimated approximately 100 people played cards at the clubhouse during the evening.

Mrs. Davis was assisted at the Ebell clubhouse by Mrs. Roy Shafer, chairman of the arrangements committee; Mrs. W. H. Spurgeon, jr., who had charge of the decorations and Mesdames R. G. Tuthill, Emily Munro, Sexton, F. E. Farnsworth, Charles Boyer, Claudia Worswick, Sam Nau, E. D. White and George Briggs. Mesdames White, Nau and Briggs poured.

Dancing started at Legion hall at 9:30 with the Grand March, led by Mr. and Mrs. Flagg. City Councilman Joe Smith, general chairman in charge of the celebration, and Mrs. Smith were second in line and were followed by members of the city council and their wives and others.

The high point of both celebrations was the President's birthday address delivered to the more than 5600 celebrations throughout the nation, by a nation-wide radio hook-up. He thanked the citizens of the nation for their interest in the Warm Springs foundation and their support of the fund that makes research work of the organization possible.

General Chairman Smith said that 70 per cent of the proceeds from the local celebration will remain in Orange county to be expended under direction of an executive committee and in cooperation with the Orange County Crippled Children's association. The remainder of the proceeds will be forwarded to the Warm Springs Foundation.

Smith was assisted by B. Z. McKinney, in charge of arrangements; R. E. Bacon, in charge of finances; Jules Markel, ticket chairman; Harry Hanson, treasurer and C. O. Cartwright, chairman of the music committee.

THREE KILLED; 32 INJURED IN TRAIN DISASTER

SUNBURY, Pa., Jan. 31. — A speeding passenger train leaped its rails late last night and plunged from an over-pass onto a highway, killing three and injuring 32. No persons on the train escaped unhurt.

Wreckage was scattered along the highway for 50 yards and it was hours before rescue crews from Sunbury had carried all the injured to hospitals.

The dead were:

Dr. Guy Rothfuss, 32, Williamsport.

Engineer William Ramp, Tamaqua, Pa.

Fireman Washington Danshaw, Temaqua.

The train was the "Williamsporter," a Reading limited, en route from Williamsport to New York City. Its 28 passengers included 12 students of Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., en route to their homes for brief vacations.

Only one passenger was hurt badly. Physicians feared Mrs. Cora

BEAUMONT SCHOOL LEADER EXPIRES

POMONA, Cal., Jan. 31.—Guy V. Whaley, 58, prominent Southern California educator, died at his home here last night following an attack of heart disease.

At the time of his death he was superintendent of Beaumont schools. Whaley came to California from Iowa in 1909 and was principal of high schools in Antioch and Vallejo. He later became superintendent of public schools in San Diego, Pomona and Vallejo.

LOEB SLAYING MAY RESULT IN STATE SCANDAL

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 31. — Belief that Richard Loeb was slashed to death by a fellow convict as the result of a deliberate plot was expressed today by State's Attorney Will B. McCabe.

As the prosecutor sought the "true story" behind the brutal killing of one of the slayers of Bobby Franks, increased demands were made for a cleanup of a prison scandal that may have wide political ramifications.

The scandal was seen as a possible factor in the re-election of Gov. Henry Horner, Democrat opposed for renomination by the powerful Chicago Democratic organization. Horner contends that charges of favoritism shown influ-

PROBE STATE CIVIL SERVICE FLUNKING

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 31.—The reported flunking of 175 applicants for supervising state liquor control officers' jobs, despite the fact they had passed written examinations, was under investigation today by Harry P. Royer, secretary of the State Employes' association.

Of the 200 applicants who were successful in their written tests several weeks ago, only 25 were classified for civil service positions after their oral appearance before a board composed of E. R. Christian and Arthur Brown, members of the personnel board, and William Brownrigg, executive personnel officer.

$100,000 IN TAXES PAID BY AUTO OWNERS, MEEHAN REPORTS

AS THE extended deadline for payment of auto license and personal property taxes neared today, with a lull in the rush of motorists who had been advised that yesterday was the final day for securing their license plates, Capt. Henry C. Meehan, of the California Highway Patrol found time to announce that total collections were approximately $100,000 in personal property taxes from 21,000 car owners.

At the same time, County Assessor James Sleeper said he had collected $7986.03 in personal property taxes on automobiles for 1935. Motorists who had not heretofore paid their 1935 taxe were required to do so and secure a clearance from the assessor, before they could get 1936 licenses.

Collections started on the first Monday in January. It was at first announced that January 30 was the closing date, but at the last moment, Attorney General U. S. Webb announced a ruling that extended the time of payment for one day. It will expire at midnight tonight.

Meanwhile, however, motorists had their eye on January 30, and jammed themselves into the patrol headquarters on or before that date, to make their payments. Besides the 21,000 plates already issued, another 500 sets of plates were received from Sacramento yesterday, but found scarcely any takers today. The rush was over.

TRAPPED IN AUTO TRUCK IN ALABAMA

Gasoline From Drum Slops Over Into Flames Used To Keep Men Warm

SCOTTSBORO, Ala., Jan. 31.—Twenty Negro convicts burned to death today in a prison truck when gasoline slopped from a drum onto a fire they had built to keep warm.

Only two of 22 convicts en route to a highway project escaped the flames, which trapped them inside the truck, shutting off their only exit, a rear door.

Two white guards on the exposed front seat of the truck escaped. They went to the rear of the truck, opened the door and urged the Negroes to leap through the searing flames.

Only two did so. They were burned badly, and were taken to a hospital, apparently in dying condition. Their 20 companions were burned in the interior of the truck.

The drum from which the gasoline slopped was just inside the rear door. The fire the Negroes had kindled was in the front part of the truck.

According to E. D. Eyester, resident highway engineer here, the Negroes had pulled the plug from the gasoline drum to get more fuel to go on their fire.

Local authorities were ordered by Montgomery officials to leave the truck and its contents untouched on the roadside.

The two guards on the truck were held incommunicado pending the investigation.

ADVISE EVACUATION OF JAPANESE AREA

SHANGHAI, Jan. 31.—American and British consulates have advised Americans and Britons residing near Kweiyang, capital of Kweichow Province, to evacuate because of the activities of communists, it was disclosed today.

Dispatches from Peiping said 2,000 armed bandits clashed with 400 men of the army of Gen. Sung Cheh-Yuan, leader of the new semi-autonomous government in the north, 25 miles northwest of Peiping. The bandits were reported in occupation of the town of Changping near which the clash occurred. Japanese army authorities said they were confident Sung's men would oust the bandits without trouble.

CRISIS NEARING IN IOWA FUEL FAMINE

DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 31.—A crisis neared today in the Iowa fuel famine as state officials awaited word from Washington on an appeal to President Roosevelt for aid in meeting the critical situation.

Fridig, sub-zero cold, which has gripped the state for nearly two weeks, continued unabated, increasing hourly the demand for fuel supplies, non-existent in many Iowa communities. Federal meteorlogists announced that no reliefe from the abnormal cold is in sight.

Many rural schools were closed.

OREGON CASTS VOTE ON SALES TAX PLAN

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 31.—Oregon voters cast ballots today in a statewide special election to determine whether a two per cent state sales tax shall be levied to raise funds for old age pensions.

Twice previously proposals to levy a sales tax have been defeated. A 1933 election rejected the plan by a four to one margin and it again was defeated by a majority of more than 2 to 1 in 1934.

Justine Whitney, county recorder for the last 21 years, who was found guilty of wilful misconduct in office by a jury in Judge Scovel's court. Judgment will be pronounced next Monday.

REGISTRATION FIGURES SHOW G. O. P. LEADING

PARTIAL returns of the new 1936 registration, including 20,150 from various sections of the county, as announced today by County Clerk J. M. Backs, show a spirited race for leadership between Republicans and Democrats, with the former having an advantage of 462. The Republican total is 9941, the Democratic 9479.

Other party affiliations include 98 Prohibition, 47 Socialist, 17 Independent, 3 Townsend, 1 Progressive, 69 Nonpartisan, 1 Progressive-Republican, 1 Farm Labor, 2 Liberal, and 489 declining to state.

The county total includes recently announced returns from Santa Ana and Orange, and additional returns from Anaheim, Fullerton, Costa Mesa, Huntington Beach and Newport Beach.

The returns show Democratic trends along the three coast communities so far reported, and Republicans leading in the larger interior cities.

Anaheim's figures aggregating 2452, include 1211 Republican, 1165 Democrat, 9 Prohibition, 15 Nonpartisan, 1 Progressive, 51 declining to state.

Fullerton's 2633 total includes

BORAH IS PLANNING OHIO "STUMP" TOUR

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Sen. William E. Borah, Republican presidential aspirant, may make an active "stump" swing through Ohio, it became known today. He expects to make a decision within the next two days.

It was learned from friends of the senator that if he goes into Ohio he will speak in Cleveland, Akron and other centers. He would remain possibly a week, timing his appearance for the greatest effect on the primary to be held May 12.

The Borah boom now is shaping up along definite lines. His friends in New York are following up his Brooklyn speech of Tuesday night with an effort to elect delegates to the national convention.

U. S. PROBE LOOMS IN MARITIME ROW

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Department of labor officials said today "serious consideration" is being given demands for an investigation of Pacific coast maritime unions.

The demands were sent to President Roosevelt and referred to Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. That is the usual procedure, department officials explained.

"The resolutions of all groups have been referred to the department of labor and Secretary Perkins and her aides were giving them the most serious consideration," Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady said.

VERDICT IS REACHED IN TWO HOURS

Recorder Faces Immediate Removal From Office; No Appeal Possible

A JURY'S verdict of guilty today confronted County Recorder Justine Whitney with immediate removal from office, following sentence next Monday morning, unless the defense decides to take one of the two possible avenues remaining open.

No appeal can be taken from the ouster verdict, the appeal section of the act governing the proceedings having been declared unconstitutional. But two alternative possibilities of setting aside the judgment remain available. The defense has not yet decided on its course.

One of these possibilities is application to the court of appeals for a writ of certiorari, which would again raise the question of the trial court's jurisdiction over the case. This issue was raised before the trial when the defense was denied a writ of prohibition, but whereas the writ of prohibition was limited to the face of the grand jury accusation against Miss Whitney, for its proof of lack of jurisdiction, a writ of certiorari would permit delving into the evidence at the trial, to support the defense position.

The other possibility is a weapon rare in California court annals—a writ of error coram nobis, a remedy supplied by the old common law, where no other remedy is available, as in the present case. There is no statutory provision for such a writ, attorneys point out, but it has on one or two occasions in the past been based upon the common law.

Jacobs Undecided

Defense Attorney O. A. Jacobs said today that he had not determined whether to seek to set aside the ouster verdict, or abide by it.

There was talk in court circles today that, if the county recorder did not resist the ouster judgment further, and stepped out of office, the grand jury probably would recommend that its own indictment of her, which still awaits trial, should be quashed. There was no official confirmation of this, and Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis, who headed the ouster prosecution, was non-committal regarding the prosecution's probable attitude toward such a move.

SENATE TO RESUME MUNITIONS PROBE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31. — The senate munitions committee again will hear testimony of J. P. Morgan and his partners, "probably Tuesday," Sen. Gerald P. Nye, R., N. D., said today.

Nye said he intended to question the Morgan partners on various phases of French and Russian loans they made during the world war.

The committee had been questioning the bankers on these subjects when hearings broke up some two weeks ago and a senate debate began over Nye's charge that the late President Wilson "falsified" when testifying before a foreign relations committee regarding secret treaties.

POSTPONE SALE OF RICHFIELD OIL CO.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—Sale of the Richfield and Pan-American Oil companies was postponed today when only one bid was submitted and it far below the minimum price set by federal court.

With the representatives of many large oil companies attending the public auction in the lobby of the Hall of Records, V. B. Stonecipher of 1244 Chipeta avenue, Grand Junction, Colo., submitted a bid of $19,500,000 for the combined properties which was promptly rejected because it was far below the $29,656,510 "upset" price fixed by federal court and because he failed to post $10,500,000 as a "good faith bond" stipulated by the court.

Search Started For Best Amateur Talent In County

SHOW TO BE BENEFIT FOR DAY NURSERY

An intensive search was started today for the best amateur entertainment talent in Orange county, and an appeal was broadcast to all parts of the county for talented persons to register at once for competition to select numbers for a revue which will be presented by the Assistance League club next month.

The show is being sponsored by the Santa Ana Ebell club as a benefit for its Day Nursery, which is operated to care for the children of mothers who have to work.

Three auditions will be conducted, the first on February 10, and amateur singers, dancers, acrobats, mimics, comedians, dramatists or other types of entertainers are asked to register at once at the Assistance League club's office, 421 North Sycamore street, use of which has been donated to the club by James Irvine.

Gil Patric, of the National Theatrical association, is in charge of the office and will assist in selecting the best presentations at the three auditions. These winners will give the program at the Ebell auditorium on February 27, 28 and 29, and the best ones in the revue will be given spots in the big production to be presented later in Los Angeles.

The show in the Ebell club here will be known as "The Orange County Discoveries Revue of 1936."

The call for participation of all Orange county amateur talent in the auditions for the revue was issued today by the Assistance League club's committee composed of Mrs. R. C. Hoiles, Mrs. Mortimer Plum and Mrs. D. K. Hammond.

Actis, Berglund Clash At Legion

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 31.—Ray Actis, San Francisco middleweight, tonight clashes with "Swede" Berglund of San Bernardino in a 10-round main event rematch at Legion stadium.

The San Francisco Italian recently knocked out Berglund in three rounds and the Swede has been clamoring since for a rematch.

Miss Mead Takes Medal Play Event

Finishing one up, Miss Lolita Mead, club champion, won yesterday's match play for women at the Santa Ana Country club. Mrs. L. J. Bushard and Mrs. Jack Colburn were one down. Miss Mead also won the blind hole tournament with Mrs. Osman Pixley second.

THREE MEN HURT IN PLANE CRASH

ALTURAS, Cal., Jan. 31.—Three men were recovering at an Alturas hospital today from injuries suffered in an airplane crash at Bieber, 54 miles southwest of here.

Injured were Myron Caldwell, 33, Bieber mill owner; Ralph Harvey, 35, and Glen Gamma, all of Bieber.

All suffered severe head and chest injuries, physicians reported, while Gamma's left leg nearly was severed at the ankle.

The plane crashed into a mountainside after flying over Caldwell's mill and dipping in salute. Caldwell was piloting the ship, which he had sold recently and was delivering to Redding, authorities said.

ential prisoners are untrue and that Joseph Ragen, recently named head of Joliet prison, is a "perfect warden."

Prosecutor McCabe advanced the theory that unnamed persons "may have been interested in having Loeb killed." He planned to re-question James Day, slight, 23-year-old convict who has maintained he slashed Loeb 36 times with a razor in self-defense.

Day claimed Loeb had annoyed him with abnormal proposals for months. Both men were in the nude when the fatal fight occurred Tuesday in a small shower bathroom to which Loeb possessed the key.

"I disbelieve Day's story almost in its entirety," McCabe said. "What he says of Loeb's morality is directly opposed to all that was known of Loeb. It is my belief that Loeb was deliberately lured to the spot where he was killed by Day."

The political significance of the prison scandal was found in demands of Democrats opposed to Governor Horner and of Republican leaders for a "wide open probe."

Attorney General Otto Kerner, seeking renomination on the Democratic slate opposed to Horner, announced that if McCabe's inquiry is not searching enough he personally will take charge of the investigation. Republican members of the house also have announced they will offer resolutions to force an investigation.

MISS WHITNEY FOUND GUILTY: FACES OUSTER

The verdict returned by the jury in Superior Judge G. K. Scovel's court at 9 o'clock last night, after 2 hours and 21 minutes of deliberation, released a fresh wave of speculation over successorship to the office. Political maneuvering and trading has been reported active under cover for some time, and numerous candidacies have been mentioned. Among the most prominent of these, perhaps, has been that of J. Fred Sidebottom, of Anaheim, former county sealer of weights and measures. Political opinion leans to the belief that northern Orange county will get the appointment, if one is made.

The Whitney case went to the jury at 5:04 p. m. yesterday, after two of the most masterly courtroom pleas that have been heard in Orange county for years—one by the defense and one by the prosecution.

After Deputy District Attorney Harold McCabe had finished opening argument for the state, Defense Counsel Jacobs launched an impassioned attack upon the charges brought against the veteran county official, whose delays in making settlement of her receipts with the county treasury, brought the ouster proceedings down upon her head.

Jacobs pictured the prosecution as making a mountain out of a molehill, in the recorder's case.

Admits Carelessness

"I'll admit she was careless. I'll admit that she committed an unlawful act, if they want to use those words. But she is not charged here with being careless; she is charged with willful and corrupt misconduct, with deceiving the auditor and treasurer and defrauding the county." He then ridiculed the idea that the county had been defrauded, pointing out that "Miss Whitney doesn't owe a nickel to the treasury."

Jacobs savagely attacked the Los Angeles auditors of the grand jury, as "trying to hang something on somebody," in order to justify their employment. "If they succeed in this, you may look for other officials to be brought before you," he declared. Miss Whitney, he said, was being pilloried because she "had a little too much of the milk of human kindness," referring to her statement that her delay in settlement was caused by inability to collect receipts, after extending credit.

The defense attorney resented intimations that he would seek an acquittal on grounds of sympathy for the white-haired official.

"I am not going down on my knees to beg for sympathy for her," he thundered. "I do not have to. We can stand on the facts and the evidence and justly ask for an acquittal."

Assistant District Attorney Davis, who delivered the state's closing argument, was himself full of sympathy for the defendant recorder, and said that he had known her as a woman of fine character, who, for many years, "had been a wonderful official."

"Starts To Slip"

"But, in 1933, she started to slip," he said regretfully. "In 1934 she slipped some more and then, in 1935, there was month after month when her acounts were delayed.

"I wish to tell you ladies and gentlemen of the jury," he declared, "that this is a sick lady. She showed that here on the witness stand this morning, and it appears everywhere in the developments of this case."

Davis warned the jury that if they acquitted the recorder they would destroy the very foundations of county government, by approving loose handling of public money.

If the recorder has a right to handle funds in such manner, he said, then the assessor and tax collector, who handle millions of tax money each year, have a perfect right to handle their funds in the same way. So has every other official of the county, or of the state.

The jury, after deliberating to 6 o'clock, was escorted to dinner by Bailiff Fred Humiston, and resumed its deliberations at 7:10 p. m. At 8:35 a buzzer sounded from the jury room, and it was announced that the verdict was ready. Before the court, counsel and defendant could be assembled to receive the verdict, it was 9:03 p. m. Foreman C. J. Porter handed in the verdict.

Miss Whitney, who had shown emotion at various times during the time, received the verdict with total composure. Judge Scovel fixed Monday at 9:30 a. m. as the time for pronouncing judgment.

THREE KILLED: 32 INJURED IN TRAIN DISASTER

Bromell, Williamsport, would die of internal injuries.

The train was approaching the Susquehanna river bridge leading into Sunbury. Rounding a sharp curve over a highway, the engine and tender jumped from the rails and plunged down onto the highway, pulling a mail and baggage car, two passenger coaches, and two refrigerator cars after it.

Dr. Rothfuss was riding in the first passenger coach. His neck was broken.

Engineer Ramp was crushed in the wreckage. Fireman Danshaw died several hours after being taken to a Sunbury hospital. His lungs had been punctured. Both he and the engineer were scalded badly by live steam when the locomotive exploded.

Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, Jan. 31. — Conflicting forces held wheat futures in a comparatively narrow range on the Board of Trade today. The undertone, however, showed improvement and prices worked forward to modest gains.

At the close May was up ⅝c a bushel 99⅝, whiled sferred options were ¼c higher. Corn was ⅛ to ¼c higher, oats was unchanged to up ⅛c and rye was ⅜ to ½c higher.

The market background appeared conducive to an advance. Inflation ideas were numerous, while foreign markets improved.

be necessary to carry the program in addition to a proposed measure to recover $200,000,000 which the supreme court ordered returned to processing taxpayers after invalidating AAA.

In regard to the bonus, the president said no decision had yet been made. It was estimated that about $200,000,000 a year would be required for amortization of the bonus outlay.

New Revenue Bill

Doughton's remarks were predicated on the assumption that a new revenue bill would be needed to cover both the farm program and bonus costs. Congress has accepted as a matter of course that either new processing taxes or possibly substitute excise levies would have to be imposed to cover new farm program costs. No fight has been indicated on this part of the administration program.

Doughton said he considered it "premature" to ask Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau, jr., to come before his committee to discuss the revenue situation.

"It is premature," he said, "until they indicate to us they desire some legislation in regard to taxes which they haven't as yet."

He urged again that a detailed study of the tax situation be made and if possible a new tax measure be put off until next January.

"The administration should say whether it needs additional revenue," Doughton said. "They know their needs better than we do."

Doughton said he would oppose any committee motion to ask Morgenthau to appear "unless the administration first asks us to look into the tax situation, otherwise it would look as though we were in a fever for taxes."

Picnics and Reunions

WISCONSIN

Former residents of Wisconsin are invited to meet for the great picnic reunion, all day Saturday, February 8, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles. Come as early as you can and spend the day with friends. There will be county registers and headquarters so all can find the old neighbors. There will be a brief program opening about 2 o'clock but the main purpose will be to have a good time. President Col. Frank H. True will preside. Each one who learns of this picnic is asked to pass the word along.

COLORADO

President Bill Campbell, of the Colorado State society is announcing the annual picnic for all former residents of that state. It will be held all day, Sunday, February 9, in Sycamore Grove park, Los Angeles, with basket dinners at noon. He promises a popular program and that county registers and headquarters will be open all day so friends may meet each other. The program will follow the dinner hour and hot coffee will be supplied for all picnickers. All Coloradoans are urged for a great day together.

KANSAS

Owing to the rains January 29, the annual picnic reunion of the Kansans in California was postponed to Wednesday, February 5. It will be held as usual in Bixby park, Long Beach, all day with basket dinners at noon. The program will follow with the famous Long Beach band supplying the musical program. Dr. Elwood T. Bailey, eloquent representative of the San Diego Exposition will be one of the speakers. The county registers will be open all day so friends may meet. Every Jayhawker is invited with a special call to tourists.

Townsend Clubs

Tustin club will meet Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock for a covered-dish dinner in Tustin Presbyterian church. A. P. Nelson will be speaker, and will answer questions during an open forum. This will be an open meeting.

PARKS TO BE IMPROVED AS WPA PROJECTS

Improvement work on parks in Santa Ana and Fullerton is provided for in allocations made today on two Works Progress Administration projects, it was announced by Dan Mulherron, county WPA manager.

The WPA allocated $15,321 for installation of a sprinkling system and for making other improvements in Birch Park, Santa Ana. The contribution by the sponsor is $4365. The project will be started in the near future and will employ 21 men.

For the Fullerton Hillcrest Park project WPA allocated $17,485 and the sponsor's contribution is $5146. The project calls for wrecking the caretaker's house and construction of an illuminated fountain, as well as for other improvements. The project will employ 51 men and will start soon.

Mulherron announced that the Newhope Drainage district project will be started today. Four projects will start Monday, including the tree surgery and parkway improvement project at Anaheim, improvement work at Harbor Park at Newport Beach, the Talbert Drainage District improvement project and Washington school, La Habra, improvements.

Next Tuesday the project to demolish a building at the Orange Union High school and install gymnasium equipment will start.

PETITION FILED IN E. C. WRIGHT ESTATE

Emund C. West, of Santa Ana, has filed a petition in superior court, to probate the will of his uncle, the late Edmund C. Wright, of Huntington Beach, who died January 20. The petitioner was named executor in the will. The estate, it was estimated, was valued "in excess of $10,000."

The deceased, former Santa Ana city councilman, and once city marshal at Huntington Beach, willed the family property on Seventh street, Huntington Beach, to the widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Wright. Legacies of stock were left to four nieces and five nephews, including Z. B. West, Franklin West and Edmund C. West, and Marguerite Hill, all of Santa Ana, Mrs. Ada C. Brown, of Ontario, a sister of the deceased, also was named a beneficiary. Stock legacies were willed to the First Baptist church, of Huntington Beach, the Odd Fellows Home, in San Francisco, and the Los Angeles Baptist Theological Seminary.

The widow, nieces and nephews were named residuary heirs.

Two Start Terms For Drunk Driving

Two men began serving sentences in Orange county jail today on drunk driving convictions. They were booked by Chief of Police James A. Bouldin of Anaheim. David McCorquodale, 38, 333 1-3 Melbourne, Fullerton, will serve 25 days and George Running, 39, Costa Mesa, will serve 50 days, according to Judge Charles Kuchel's decisions.

Police News

Felix R. Leas, 20, 1025 North Los Angeles street, Anaheim, was booked at county jail yesterday by Constable Skillman of Fullerton on the charge of resisting an officer. Justice H. I. Spence of Fullerton set bail at $300.

MOTORIST HAS NARROW ESCAPE IN COLLISION

Narrowly escaping death when his car collided with another at 5:45 o'clock last evening, a half mile west of Cypress, John Chesser, 68, of Moody road, Cypress, was rushed to Dr. P. F. Haskell's Artesia sanitarium where he was treated for cuts about the face, hands and knees, and painful bruises.

Witnesses reported Chesser was thrown from his pickup truck which collided with a car driven by Loraine Young, 35, of Route 4, Box 328, Anaheim, at the intersection of Lincoln and Moody roads, that the truck then described a semi-circle in its course and turned over upon Chesser. The Young vehicle also struck Chesser, witnesses reported. After emergency hospital treatment, however, Chesser was taken home. He was reported improving today.

Chesser had just left a service station at the southwest corner of the intersection and was proceeding north on Moody and Mrs. Young was driving west on Lincoln, according to state highway patrol report, when the collision occurred.

CHARGES REDUCED IN LIQUOR CASE

Charges of contributing to delinquency of two Costa Mesa boys by giving them liquor and getting them intoxicated, against Leonard N. Greschner, 31, real estate broker of Costa Mesa, were dismissed in Justice of Peace Kenneth Morrison's court today on request of the district attorney's office after Greschner had been bound over to superior court. The district attorny plans to file a new complaint, ordinary misdemeanor, against Greschner, before Judge D. J. Dodge of Costa Mesa today, charging him with sale or giving of intoxicating liquor to minors. complaint of contributing. Greschcomplatin of contributing, Greschner agreed to plead guilty to the lesser charge, he said in Judge Morrison's court today.

SHERIFF JACKSON RETURNS TO OFFICE

For the first visit to his office in more than a week, Sheriff Logan Jackson was able to be present for a brief time this morning to handle business matters. The sheriff has been suffering from a severe attack of flu which began shortly before he was called to Santa Barbara county January 14, following death of his brother-in-law, William Ross of Oxnard. Mrs. Jackson also has been ill at home with flu.

While the sheriff returned to his home early, to recuperate, he reported that both he and Mrs. Jackson were improving nicely "as long as we watch our step."

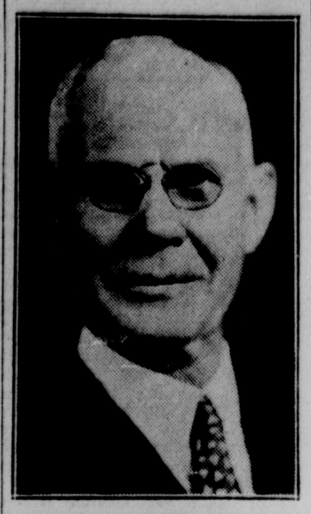

Demonstration To Be Given Police By First Aid Team

The Southern California Edison company crack Red Cross first aid team from [illegible] was scheduled to appear this afternoon before 25 members of Santa Ana police department in a special demonstration, according to Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard.

The demonstration is a part of the present program of first aid classes being conducted for the police department personnel by Dr. James Farrage. The team's routine includes fast action demonstration of the various first aid methods.

SPEAKS HERE

The Rev. Dr. Joseph A. Vance of Detroit, below moderator of the General Assemblies of the Presbyterian church in the United States, will address Orange county Presbyterians and others at a dinner meeting in the Green Cat cafe, Santa Ana, tomorrow at 12:15 p.m.

NATIONAL HEAD WILL ADDRESS PRESBYTERIANS

Orange county Presbyterians today were looking forward with interest to the scheduled visit of the Rev. Dr. Joseph A. Vance of Detroit, Michigan, moderator of the General Assembly of Presbyterian churches in United States, who will address a dinner meeting in the Green Cat cafe, Santa Ana, at 12:15 p.m. tomorrow.

The moderator's visit here will be one of the five appearances he is scheduled to make among the three presbyteries of Southern California. Other addresses are scheduled at Riverside, Santa Barbara, San Diego and Los Angeles.

Advance reservations for the dinner will not be necessary, but would be appreciated, it was announced. Such reservations can be made by telephoning to the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana.

The Rev. Dr. Vance, beside being moderator of the General Assembly, is president of the board of missions of the Presbyterian church, and also is pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Detroit. At Cincinnati, in May, 1935, he received the highest honor in the gift of his church, the election as moderator.

He is a brother of the Rev. Dr. James I. Vance of Nashville, Tennessee, one of the leaders of the Presbyterian church in the south.

SEEK JUNK THIEVES

City police today were on the lookout for two Jewish men who, according to complaint of Henry Kinslow, 702 East First street, drove their light delivery truck to the rear of his place and helped thtmselves to a load of junk iron. The truck, Kinslow reported, was painted green.

OFFICERS OF S. A. RED CROSS ARE ELECTED

Dr. John Wehrly was re-elected chairman of the Santa Ana Red Cross chapter last night at the annual meeting of that organization. Harry L. Hanson was re-elected treasurer. Col. M. B. Wellington was elected vice-chairman and Miss Margaret Esau, secretary.

The officers were named at a meeting of the board of directors following the annual election at which the following board members were named: Miss Hazel Bemus, Mrs. George Dunham, Laguna Beach; Harry Edwards, Mrs. Paul H. Esslinger, Capistrano; Miss Margaret Esau, Dr. James Farrage, H. L. Hanson, Frank H. Henderson, Mrs. Clara Hoagland, San Clemente; Mrs. Florence Holmes, Dr. C. G. Houston, Costa Mesa; Mrs. Pearl Jones, Huntington Beach; Mrs. Marie Kennedy, Seal Beach; Mrs. T. D. Knights, Mrs. J. H. Liebrick, Mrs. Alice Lewis, Corona Del Mar; Mrs. Louise Moulton, El Toro; Mrs. Eugene Robinson, Mrs. Charles Riggs, Dr. Perry Schrock, Mrs. Belle Spangler, T. E. Stephenson, Mrs. C. C. Violett, Garden Grove; Dr. John Wehrly and M. B. Wellington.

During the business meeting reports were submitted by the chairman of various standing committees of the organization, including the First Aid of the Highway group, recently organized with Harry Edwards as chairman. While making his report Edwards introduced Mrs. James Mustard of Highway First Aid Station No. 2, at Corona Del Mar and said that this station already has saved two lives by administering first aid following an automobile crash.

Miss Bess Sawyer, instructor and proof-reader of Braille, was the principal speaker and fascinated the audience with her demonstation of reading without eyes, and her story of the development of Braille.

Mrs. Esther Chadbourn, national field representative, attended the meeting and spoke on the development of the Junior Red Cross.

MAKES INQUIRY OF POLICE; ARRESTED

Anaheim police gave Robert V. Balch, 19, who said he is a civil engineer and lives in Anaheim, a big surprise late last night when he appeared at the station to make an inquiry. They arrested him for burglary.

Balch, who was brought to Orange county jail by Deputy Sherriffs James Ragan and James Workman and booked on the burglary charge at 12:10 a. m. today, was wanted by Constable George Trull, of Lindsay, who was advised today to "come and get your man."

Balch told Deputies Ragan and Workman that he didn't burglarize anything.

"All I know is, I was living with some folks up there," he said. "They went on a trip east and while they were gone, the place was burglarized.

Free Clinic For Children To Be Opened Tuesday

Starting next Tuesday, an educational campaign for the purpose of assuring better spines for school children up to the age of 12 years will be launched here through the establishment of a free chiropractic clinic for children, it was announced today by Dr. W. M. Tipple, of Santa Ana.

The clinic will be opened next Tuesday afternoon and will be for the purpose of examining and correcting defects in the spines of children, and to acquaint the parents of these children with the necessity of establishing perfect co-ordination in the child prior to puberty and adolescence, Dr. Tipple declared.

"The great objective," said Dr. Tipple, "will be in getting the sick well, giving the boys and girls a chance to face the responsibilities of life, through the possession of a vigorous body and sound mind. This free clinic is primarily intended for poor, or indigent children under 12 years of age, whose parents or guardians are unable financially to afford any method of maintaining the child's health."

Each child enrolled in the clinic which is to be carried on after school hours, must be accompanied by a parent or guardian, said Dr. Tipple.

Dr. Tipple's free clinic will be conducted Tuesday and Friday afternoons from 5 to 6 o'clock in his offices at East Seventh and Bush streets.

LITERARY WORK AT J. C. TO BE ISSUED MONDAY

The Tavern Post, the semi-annual publication of the Tavern Tattlers literary organization of the Santa Ana Junior college, will be circulated on the campus Monday, Feb. 3, according to announcement made today by Stanley Wilson, editor-in-chief of the magazine.

The Post is composed entirely of creative writings by the students of the college and includes a one-act play, short stories, prose, and poetry. The booklet this semester contains 72 pages, illustrated with linoleum blocks contributed by art students of the school. There are literary contributions by approximately 22 students.

Wilson worked with a staff of associate editors including Edward Robinson and the Misses Ruth Kilbourne, Betty Martin, Ruth Warner, and Frances Was. Norman Mennes acted as art editor, the book this year containing more illustrations than previously used. Thomas H. Glenn, head of the college English department and faculty advisor for the Tavern Tattlers, was advisor of the magazine.

The booklet was bound and printed by the Junior College Fine Arts press, with T. E. Williams as director of printing.

CAST SELECTED FOR ANNUAL JAYCEE PLAY

The cast for C. Stafford Dickens's fast-moving comedy, "The Command Performance," to be presented on Fiesta Day by the drama students of Santa Ana Junior college, was selected last night by Ernest Crozier Phillips, drama instructor. The final tryouts held yesterday culminated several weeks of casting.

Miss Agnes Brady and Arthur Coleman will play the leads in the play, taking the characters of the Princess Katerina and the Prince Alexis.

The mother of the princess will be played by Miss Jean Kay, with Miss Betty Jane Moore playing the mother of the prince, Queen Elinor. Other parts in the play will be taken by Miss Jeannette Bodeman, James Doyle, Lawrence Nowlan, Bill Bachman, and Kenneth Stowell. There are still several minor parts to be filled.

The story is laid on the historical basis of a young Russian carpenter who went to Montenegro in 1768. This Stephen Mali, representing himself as the son of the Russian emperor, Peter III, won the confidence of the Montenegriens. He married a native princess and was eventually made king of Montenegro, which country he ruled with some success from 1768 until his death in 1773.

"Lost" Girl Was Visiting Friend

Blonde-headed, four-year-old Sydney Paul, daughter of the W. H. Pauls, 919 Minter street, merely was on a visit to the home of a girl friend yesterday afternoon when city police and her mother engaged in an intensive "lost girl" hunt for her. After Sydney's visit was finished, she marched home "big as life," and was her mother happy!

Police News

A typewriter, bicycle and radiator cap, valued at $78.50, were reported stolen in three thefts committed Wednesday and last night, according to city police records. George W. Lewis, Route 1, Box 287, Garden Grove, said he suffered loss of the typewriter, valued at $62.50, as he was en route home between Anaheim and Garden Grove late yesterday afternoon. Teddy Knowlton, 701 East Chestnut, lost his bicycle, parked beside the State theater, Fourth and Birch, Wednesday night. It was valued at $15. Mary Nalle, 814 South Birch, said someone removed a radiator cap, valued at $1, from her car, parked at Main and Church streets last night.

COIN IN STOMACH 10 YEARS

SANFORD, Me.—George Faucher thought his appendix was infected, but X-ray pictures showed differently. They showed that a half-dollar Faucher swallowed 10 years ago was still in his stomach. Doctors removed the coin.

CIVIL SERVICE ACT DISCUSSED BY INSTRUCTOR

The rise of the spoils system in America was outlined by Valjean McCoy, history and civics teacher at the high school, in a talk delivered before the League of Women Voters. The meeting was held in the Y. M. C. A. this week and was well attended by League members and their friends.

McCoy spoke on the topic "Principles of the Civil Service System." He told of the inception of the spoils system in America which resulted in the slogan "to the victor belong the spoils" during the administration of President Andrew Jackson.

Civil Service Act

With the assassination of President Garfield, by a disappointed office-seeker, the need for Civil Service became apparent and resulted in passage of the first Civil Service Act in 1883, McCoy said.

Today, he pointed out, under the slogan, "Find the man for the job not the job for the man" the merit system seeks to prevent the payment of political debts at the expense of efficient government. This system, he said, seeks to substitute fitness for favoritism, and to recruit qualified applicants for government service.

Dr. Ellen Stadtmuller, chief of the California Bureau of Child Hygiene attended the meeting and spoke briefly on the Federal Social Security Bill. She outlined her plans for cooperation with terms of the measure in regard to maternal and child health activities.

Plan Communion Services Sunday

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 31.—Communion service will be observed Sunday morning at the Wintersburg Community Methodist church, with the pastor, the Rev. Joseph Thompson, speaking on "Let Us Arise To Our Tasks." The choir will present the number, "Are Ye Able." The evening sermon topic will be "Christ's Reasons for Missions." The Oceanview school orchestra will present musical numbers.

There are 114,000 blind persons in America.

IMPROVEMENTS COMPLETED AT SORORITIE SHOP

With remodelling of the entire exterior and interior of the store now completed, a complete stock of new spring apparel has been received at Synder's Sororitie shop, 218 West Fourth street, it was announced today by Florence Louise Snyder, who has managed the Santa Ana and Long Beach Sororitie shops since the death of her husband, Merritt Snyder, in August, 1933.

The Sororitie shop here has been most successful, Mrs. Snyder said today, because it was one of the first of its kind ever established on the Pacific Coast, specialising in collegiate and Missy apparel, sizes 12 to 20, at low prices.

The Sororitie shop, which has been located in Santa Ana for the past seven years, presents a most attractive appearance now that the improvements have been completed. The new modern store front adds greatly to the general appearance of the street, and the tastefully decorated interior, with its big displays of new spring merchandise for women and girls, has been greatly improved to conform to modern trends, it was pointed out.

Mrs. Snyder emphasized that there is not a single garment in the store which was there when remodelling was started recently Every item in the store is new, she declared.

"There has been a reason for the Sororitie shop's splendid, if not phenomenal volume of business, despite the emergencies in the trade of the last two years," she said. "The low selling prices inaugurated some time ago and the rapid turnover of stock which resulted, have made it possible to reduce the margin of profit considerably—a factor which has been responsible for an ever-expanding customer clientele. At no time will there be a fixed selling price policy, but instead, it will be flexible, constantly changing with the market, meaning that the customers will benefit."

NEEDLE SALESMAN ORDERED TO LEAVE

George Wiley, 34, ex-rider of race horses and ex-seller of needles and pins in Santa Ana, was on his way to parts unknown today.

Wiley was given a 10-day suspended county jail sentence by City Judge J. G. Mitchell with the understanding Wiley would no longer remain here. Wiley it was, who was apprehended by City Officers F. L. Grouard and A. F. Moulton at Eighth and Broadway at 10 minutes till 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Wiley was arrested for being drunk. He'd been ringing doorbells and knocking on doors for a long enough time to have aroused the ire of most of the neighborhood, residents of which needed their sleep far more than either needles or pins.

SHOP EXTENSIVLY REMODELED

Pictured below is the attractive exterior of Snyder's Sororitie Shop, 213 West Fourth street, where extensive remodelling and redecorating of the exterior and interior have been completed. With completion of the improvements, it was announced that there is not a single garment in the shop for women which is not brand new spring merchandise.

SHOW PICTURES AT SESSION OF CLUB

ORANGE, Jan. 31.—Plans of the Orange Rotary club to meet in a joint session with the Fullerton club in Fullerton February 5 were discussed at a meeting of the Orange club yesterday. C. E. Lush, of Orange will be the speaker. On February 9, the club will present a program at the Whittier State school. Dr. Robert Burns McAulay presided.

A number of sound pictures were shown. Those included "Thrills of the Air," an Aesop Fable cartoon, and a film depicting operations of the Trans-America corporation. The pictures were brought to the club by T. R. Cook and F. A. Dingfelder, of Los Angeles.

"Thrills of the Air," revealed the development of the airplane since 1912. Jay Brown, manager of the Orange branch of the Bank of America, was program chairman.

CAPISTRANO HOLDS BIRTHDAY AFFAIR

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Jan. 31.—President Roosevelt was honored here last night at the annual birthday ball held in the auditorium of the San Juan Capistrano Union High school. Representatives of all the coast communities from this village to San Clemente gathered here to dance and hear the President's radio address.

Presiding Elder To Speak Sunday

TALBERT, Jan. 31.—Dr. J. A. B. Frye, presiding elder of the Los Angeles district of the Methodist church, south, will occupy the pulpit of the Talbert church Sunday evening. The service will open at 7 o'clock.

The regular Sunday school session of the church will be held at 10 a. m., this and the 7 o'clock service comprising the only services of the day.

CAPISTRANO CLUB GROUP ENTERTAINED

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Jan. 31.—Mrs. E. A. Louderback entertained the Contract Bridge section of the Woman's club at her home Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Russell Cook scored high, Mrs. Dan McHenry, second, and Mrs. A. W. Speer, consolation.

Members present were Mesdames Paul Esslinger, Charles Dean, Ezra Hollister, A. W. Speer, D. J. McHenry, D. A. Ross, M. E. Walters, Russell Cok, O. J. Guilbert, Stanley Stansbery, F. E. Jinnett, William Schlosser and the hostess, Mrsr. Louderback.

The next meeting of this group will be held February 24 at the home of Mrs. Stanley Stansbery.

BIRTHDAY AFFAIR HELD AT LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 31. — Residents of the Laguna Beach area gathered last night in the Laguna hotel to celebrate President Roosevelt's 54th birthday, at the Third Annual President's ball and, at the same time do their bit toward relieving the suffering of children stricken by infantile paralysis.

The high point of the celebration last night was the President's birthday message delivered to all of the 5600 celebrations, by a nation-wide radio hook-up. Music for the dance was provided by the WPA orchestra.

Canine Trained To Smoke, Dance

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 31.—"Talaban," a German Shepherd dog which is now completing its training for stage and radio at the Kurtiska kennels, is attracting considerable attention from local dog lovers. The animal, two and a half years old, smokes cigarettes and dances and singe at command. The owner, William Sharpiell, is an announcer for a radio station.

A large new training pen has just been completed at the local kennels on the 325 by 60 foot lot recently purchased adjoining the kennels on the east.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
— News Behind the News —

WASHINGTON
By PAUL MALLON
Copyright, 1936, by Paul Mallon

STROLLING—

Al Smith did not say where he would take that walk to, but some of his top confreres in the American Liberty League have a destination. Their strolling plans were adopted at a few secret confabs before and after they heard Al speak at the dinner.

It was all unofficial, of course, but nonetheless definite. While it may not now be confirmed, officially you may match it down in your memory as the agreed chartered course of Al's pals, if not of Al himself.

(a) If the Republicans nominate a conservative on a conservative platform, they will support him.

(b) If Senator Borah or Senator Vandenberh (these two names were mentioned specifically) or "anyone like that" is nominated, they will not support him.

(c) If they cannot support the Republican nominee, a third party will be put into the field.

You can have one guess and no more as to the identity of the candidate of that third party.

Note—The underlying importance of this decision is far beyond what Al hinted. It cuts his party more definitely than he did. It means that any idea of a pre-convention fight to prevent President Roosevelt's nomination is out the window. It precludes the possibility of any change which would make Roosevelt acceptable. It shows that the big idea is to beat Roosevelt and that the most practical means of attaining that end is to be followed.

* * *

APPREHENSION—

Shrewd anti-TVA lawyers privately profess increasing doubt as to whether the supreme court will declare the Tennessee Valley Authority unconstitutional. They have tipped congressional friends that they are not at all certain the court will continue its demolition of the New Deal.

* * *

SETTLEMENT—

Chalk up as a columnar error the assertion recently made in these lines that John Raskob's income tax for 1929 stood approved for six years. A sixty-day letter, first asserting the deficiency, was mailed by the internal revenue bureau in December, 1932, but not made public.

A contest has existed in the board of tax appeals since then. This does not alter the fact that the last bureau attack on Raskob was given publicity a few days after he threatened to sue Chairman Farley for a $25,000 loan to the Democratic National committee.

Incidentally, Farley has since paid off Raskob. A photostat of the check is being exhibited by Farley's friends. The matter is closed, except for the expected extraction of about $16,000 from Mr. Raskob by the tax authorities.

* * *

CONFLICT—

Smiling Federal Tax Collector Guy Helvering strolled out of Mr. Roosevelt's office the other day. He told inquiring newsmen that he had discussed with the president the Kansas political situation.

A few hours later, they asked Mr. Roosevelt about it. He said the Kansas political situation had not been discussed.

Not alone from this disparity of announcements, but from other hints, came a rumor that Mr. Helvering would retire and that that was what they discussed.

Some New Dealers want to prevent loss of a political front in the tax collector's office for the campaign.

* * *

STEAMING UP—

Politicals are getting so excited by their own and opposition speeches that the inner atmosphere of Washington now is as combustible as during the last week before election. The name-calling stage was reached when congress convened a month ago. With nine months to go before election, it is apparent that the boys are going to start throwing rocks soon, or break a few blood vessels.

The tension is particularly noticeable inside the house.

Speaker Byrns wanted to pass the interior department appropriation bill the other day. Congressman Taylor, in charge, informed the speaker that he had sixty-five requests for speaking time. Not more than five wanted to speak about the bill. The other sixty wanted to make political campaign speeches.

That is why it required days for the house to pass an appropriation bill that is usually passed in a few hours.

* * *

NOTES—

Treasury Secretary Morgenthau offered newsmen a quart of scotch as reward for the identity of the fellow who spread the devaluation in Wall street. Morgy thau said he already knew it, but wanted to see how good the newsmen were as sleuths.) Two newsmen framed it so one would confess and the other report him, thus getting a joint scoop. It did not work, possibly because there is no such fellow.

* * *

John L. Lewis held a long conference with Mr. Roosevelt before his United Mine Workers convention assembled here. Anything Mr. Roosevelt wanted out of that convention, he could have.

* * *

The only blind man in congress now is Matt Dunn of Pittsburgh, who gets around the house chamber without guidance. He declines to have a page boy help him. Standing in a corridor with dozens of persons walking around, he recently recognized his approaching secretary and greeted her. He distinguished her footsteps.

* * *

The growth of the Townsend movement in congress has been thoroughly stopped, for this session at least. Antagonism to it has become so popular that Townsendites are worried about the sincerity of some of the congressmen who are standing publicly with them.

* * *

Speaker Harry (Pop) Hopkins emerged from a national emergency council meeting at the White House the other day and was asked what was discussed. He replied with a twirl of his hand around his ear. "Oh, you know, the music goes 'round and around."

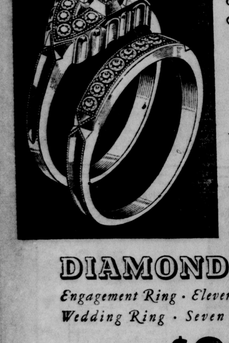

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

HARDEST

The Federation of Labor's executive council reproved John L. Lewis in ringing terms for his industrial union rebellion—but took darned good care not to slam the door on his foot.

It's significant that the committee named to try to work out a compromise with Lewis was headed by George M. Harrison of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
News Behind the News

Harrison is the diplomat who hatched a satisfactory agreement last year to end the bitter war between civil factions in the building trades. Insiders say Bill Green is praying he has another such miracle up his sleeve.

Green's hardest job right now is said to be restraining the more violent anti-Lewisites from flying off the handle and wrecking all chance for a pacific solution. W. D. Hutcheson of the carpenters' brotherhood—victim of Lewis' fists at Atlantic City last fall—headed a strong minority on the council who came close to defeating the resolution of censure because it wasn't harsh enough.

* * *

PRETTY

Meanwhile Lewis can afford to laugh at his opponents' vehemence. Why should he care? He knows federation chiefs will think long and hard before taking irrevocable steps to expel his United Mine Workers. The federation's finances are not in such flourishing shape that they can lightly toss 450,000 dues-paying members into the outer darkness.

Even if they should be so rash, he has nothing to lose. His union is plenty strong enough to stand on its own feet. The other big industrial unions would probably accede from the federation to join him in forming a rival organization that would have every prospect of soon overshadowing the original. Lewis is sitting pretty—and knows it. Peace will be made on his terms—or not at all.

The United Mine Workers' own convention—now going on—is due to register emphatic disapproval of Lewis' antics, which won't exactly simplify the task of the peacemakers. It will also go on record as backing FDR to the limit. Lewis and his followers owe a lot to the New Deal.

* * *

HAMSTRING

New York Republicans have worked out a definite strategy for the state election this fall. They don't bother very much about the governorship—especially if Gov. Lehman runs again for the Democrats—but will concentrate on capturing both branches of the legislature. The G.O.P. candidate for governor will be chosen more for what his presence on the ticket will do for his fellow candidates than for what he can do for himself.

The idea is that full control of the legislature would hamstring any Democratic governor who tried to put over a legislative program inspired from Washington (assuming Roosevelt's reelection). This would be particularly important in the event that congress passes a New Deal constitutional amendment, as it would block ratification by the state of New York.

Republican leaders in several other states—notably Indiana and Ohio—are expected to adopt the same principle.

* * *

RUMORS

New York is always a great gossip factory, but last week hit a high-water mark for that sort of thing. In one day the following items of five-star extra information were being broadcast all over Wall Street—each guaranteed straight from the feed-box.

1. Silver was to be revalued at $2.19 an ounce—the profit from revaluation to be used to pay the bonus.

2. Secretary Morgenthau was about to resign.

3. The committee for the nine was back in the saddle at Washington.

4. Further devaluation of the dollar was to be announced at once, immediately.

5. A free gold market was going to be established at once.

All these spelled inflation with capital I and boys were in a spot as to whether to buy stocks or sell dollars. It just goes to show you shouldn't believe all you hear.

The best posted sources are sure that items 1, 2 and 3 are pure imagination. Number 4 may still happen later—if the farm group put on enough pressure—but not for a while. Number 5 is in a different category. By itself it is not inflationary and insiders say rate it a likely possibility despite FDR's light-hearted dismissal of the report at his press conference.

* * *

MELT

Bill Borah has quite a few Republican supporters in New York state—and presumably elsewhere—who would regard it as a real catastrophe if he were actually nominated. Since they are confident he cannot be, they regard him as a useful vehicle to assist the complete suppression of the Hoover influence at the convention. The one thing most New York G.O.P. leaders are positive about is that they don't want Hoover either to be or to name the candidate.

Borah is likely to show surprising strength in the first few convention ballots until the big cities have a chance to make their dozens and find out where they stand. Then his backing is due to melt like snow on a stove.

* * *

LONG

The securities exchange commission's new ruling that corporations must tell their stockholders all when seeking their proxies should boom business for printers. That convenient phrase "and all other business which may come before the board of directors" is no-fooler. Listing the details of action for which the stockholders' consent is sought may lead to proxy forms as long as a play by Bernard Shaw.

* * *

SIDELIGHTS

It's the insurance companies' turn to get mad at Jesse Jones. . . . Where does he get off saying they should be satisfied with a four per cent return on investments. . . . Recent sub-zero weather through the north was a sweet break for the railroads.

Business Boom Is Predicted For Seal Beach

WORK ON NEW WATER SYSTEM STARTED SOON

SEAL BEACH, Jan. 31.—With three projects, involving expenditure of aproximately $172,000, under construction or due to start within the next few weeks, and a program of modernizing the beach front, to be financed by private capital, outlined, Seal Beach is facing an unprecedented business boom.

At its last meeting the city council accepted a revised low bid for construction of the city's water system which will cost approximately $50,000 when completed. The low bid of $50,000, submitted by H. A. Peget, of Ontario, was certified to the Public Works Administration for acceptance.

The successful bidder on this job originally submitted a bid calling for expenditure of $52,956.45, which was rejected on the grounds that it was too high. Later this bid was revised through elimination of certain pipelines, and accepted.

Rohl-Connolly, successful contractors on the breakwater jetty project, have announced that they will start construction work on the project within the next few weeks. This project will cost approximately $82,000, with the federal government supplying a portion of the cost.

The sewage disposal plant, also being constructed under a local bond issue and federal aid at a total cost of approximately $45,000 is nearing completion.

The Security First National bank, present owner of all properties of the Bayside Land company, recently announced plans for improving their holdings in this city and launching of a campaign to sell the property to individual purchasers.

Several months ago the bank took over all Bayside Land Company holdings, representing an investment of approximately $300,000. This property included the major portion of the city, including ocean front, residence and business property.

The bank has advertised for bids for removal of the old roller coaster and numerous buildings along the ocean front and has announced that when the property is cleared off it will be put on the market as high class beach front property.

At the same time a campaign involving residential district and business property will be launched. In the original subdivision of Seal Beach property residence lots were established at 25-foot frontage. Under the new development being mapped by the bank these lots, where possible, will be combined to offer at least 50-foot frontage.

TWO WELLS TO BE REDRILLED

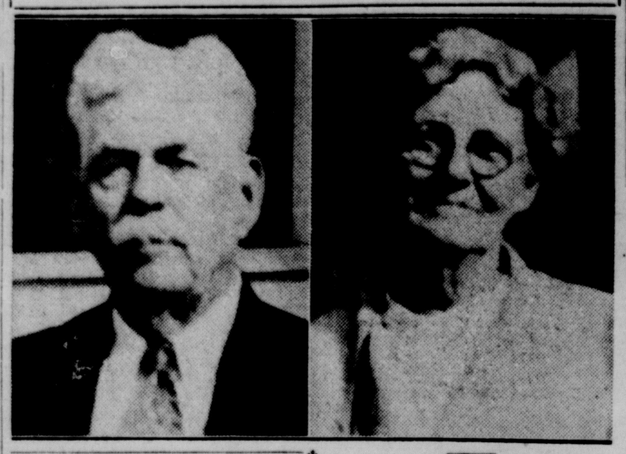

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 31.—Permits for the redrilling of two Huntington Beach oil wells have been granted by the State Division of Oil and Gas. The Standard Oil company will redrill its Bolsa No. 32 and the Duke-Gates Petroleum company its No. 1 well. In the same field the D. D. Dunlap Oil company will abandon its Mills No. 4 project.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED

Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Lopp, who are observing their 50th wedding anniversary today. A surprise dinner is planned at their home this evening.

FORMER L. A. ART CRITIC INJURED

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 31.—Anthony Anderson, 70, former art editor for a Los Angeles newspaper, was injured last night when struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Katherine Sullivan, also of Laguna Beach.

The injured man was taken to the office of Dr. A. H. Wightman and given first aid treatment before returning to his own home on Coast boulevard. According to Dr. Wightman, the injured man sustained bruises and shock.

Spectators said that Anderson had started across Coast boulevard, at Aster street and, apparently became confused and started back toward the curb, stepping in front of the automobile driven by Mrs. Sullivan.

"Pine Tree," Fumiko Yagamato, Lornige Yagamato, Anna Tornavacca, Mildred Wardlow, Carmen Flores, Viola Sawyer, Rose Miyolia. "Rattlers," Beatrice Hilton, Josephine Flores, Alvera Grjeda, Rosie Grjeda, Marjorie Betschart, Polly Wardlow.

Class Discusses Food, Drug Acts

TUSTIN, Jan. 31.—The Consumers' Education class met this week at the home of Mrs. Hugh J. Plumb, with Mrs. Neal Beisel, of Santa Ana, conducting the discussion on the pure food and drug acts. Mrs. Beisel cited statistics on poisons contained in certain drugs and cosmetics and asked members to read further on the subject for the February meeting, which will be held in the home of Mrs. O. B. Newcom, Yorba street.

Those present, other than the hostess, Mrs. Plumb, were Mesdames Neal Beisel, Mary Robertson, W. C. Dunlap, Byron Walbridge, R. R. Lutes, Porter G. Luther, L. E. Allen, Charles N. Archer, Owen A. Murray, L. R. Stearns, Glenn Warner, Ruth C. Walker and J. H. Pankey.

Couple Will Be Honored At Surprise Affair in Buena Park

BUENA PARK, Jan. 31.—Fifty years of happy married life will be observed tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Lopp in a surprise party staged by friends and relatives at the Buena Park home.

J. Z. Lopp, now 73, and Belle Redford Lopp, now 67, were married January 31, 1886, at Fairfield, Benton county, Missouri. They have two sons, E. Z. Lopp, Buena Park, and E. C. Lopp, Boulevard Gardens.

Among those who plan to dine with and congratulate the J. Z. Lopps tonight are members of the E. Z. and E. C. Lopp families, and I. B. Lopp, brother of J. Z., and his family, of Redlands.

Mr. and Mrs. Lopp have gained many friends since moving to Buena Park six years ago. They own chicken ranches here and at Arlington. Both are active in operation of the Buena Park ranch.

From 1910 to 1916, Mr. Lopp was county judge of Benton county, Missouri, and from 1918 to 1920, he was a representative in the Missouri state legislature.

Farewell Affair Held For Couple

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scott were honored guests at a farewell party given recently by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Scott at the latters home on West Garden Grove boulevard. Mr. and Mrs. Scott departed this week for their home in Gillette, Wyo., after enjoying a month's visit with his brother, Roy Scott, and family.

The evening was spent playing pinochle, with first prizes going to Mrs. W. W. Scott and F. M. Krentz. A two course supper was served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Krentz, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Melvin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Scott.

BRIDGE PARTY SPONSORED BY HARBOR GROUP

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 31.—The sum of $85 was raised for the aid of crippled children at the President's birthday party held in the new grammar school last night, according to Mrs. J. R. McClure, secretary of the sponsoring group. Thirty per cent of this amount will be used locally and the other seventy per cent will go to the Warm Springs foundation in Virginia.

One hundred and seventy tickets were sold to people who participated in the contract and auction bridge games that were carried on in the school auditorium and the bunco games played in the kindergarten room. Prizes of merchandise, donated by merchants of Newport Beach, Costa Mesa, Balboa, Corona Del Mar and Balboa Island, were given to game winners and as door prizes.

Over twenty door prizes were given, Mrs. Miriam Porter receiving first. Twelve prizes were given for games. H. L. Sherman distributed the gifts. Mrs. L. B. Brevier, of Balboa, headed the committee securing prizes. She was assisted by Mrs. Hugh Marshall, Mrs. J. H. Summers, Gus Tamplia and S. A. Meyer.

Tickets were in charge of Mrs. Irvin George Gordon, Mrs. Hugh Marshall, Mrs. E. Bouton, Mrs. Claude Pullen, Harold Grauel and Miss Anna Brogar. Tables and cards were in charge of Harold Grauel, Al Dyckman and J. D. Watkins.

Other committees were, reception, Mrs. J. D. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles TeWinkle, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy P. Anderson, Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Grundy, and Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Huston; cards, Mrs. Roland Hodgkinson and C. H. Reed, and decorations, Mrs. Claude Pullen, Jack Deuel and Mrs. Alex Wright.

Representatives of harbor district social and civic organizations were the sponsors, Mrs. Nella Norton representing the Newport Beach American Legion auxiliary, acting as president, and Mrs. J. R. McClure, member of the Newport Beach P.-T. A., as secretary.

Funeral Services For Laguna Beach Resident Saturday

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 31.—Funeral services for Miss Decima Vivian, for the past four years a resident of Laguna Beach, who died Wednesday, will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. at the Laguna Funeral home.

Miss Vivian, who lived with her sister, Mrs. Mildred V. Chandler, at 567 Flora street, had been in poor health for some time, and arrangements were being made to convey her to a hospital. An emergency call brought the inhalator squad of the Laguna Beach fire department, under Chief Bushman but pulmotor and other treatment failed to rally the stricken woman.

The deceased was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and educated in the east, taking up further studies and travels in foreign countries. Miss Vivian was active in club circles and public affairs in Laguna Beach and had a large circle of friends. With her sister, she had done considerable literary work.

Lions Official Speaks At Mesa

COSTA MESA, Jan. 31. — Dr. Elliott Rowland of Santa Ana, deputy district president of Lions International, was the chief speaker on this week's program of the Lions club at their regular luncheon meeting. He called attention to the possibilities that the clubs have to better political conditions by co-operating in the support of the right kind of men for public offices.

The Rev. Perry Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church of Santa Ana, spoke briefly, corroborating the statements of Dr. Rowland. Dr. C. G. Huston, program chairman for the day, introduced both speakers.

Walter H. Foord, president of the club, presided.

SPEAKERS FOR ANNUAL MISSION SCHOOL LISTED

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 31.—The program for the annual school of world friendship which will be held each Sunday evening at the Westminster Presbyterian church throughout the month of February has all been arranged.

The first speaker for the assembly programs will be Dr. Roy M. Byram, former local man and missionary on furlough from Korea, who will present pictures and speak on the mission work. This will be at 7 o'clock Sunday evening and will follow the mission study classes which convene at 6 p. m.

On Sunday evening February 9, the Rev. and Mrs. John Burman, formerly missionaries in South America and now in charge of Mexican work in Westminster will speak. The February 16 date is yet to be filled while on February 23 there will be an address by Mrs. H. R. Shaffer, formerly a missionary of the Presbyterian church in Brazil.

Five groups will be included in the mission study hour from 6 to 7 o'clock each Sunday evening, with leaders and study books as follows: Adults, "That Other America", Miss Nellie French, leader; young people, "Latin America Background," Mrs. Marie Hare, leader; intermediates, "The Flying Boat," Mrs. Henry Snasdell, leader; juniors, "Over the Mexican Border," Mrs. Clarence Groves, leader; primary, "Around a Mexican Patio," Helen McCoy, leader.

The classes are open to the entire community.

REV. TAYLOR ILL

SEAL BEACH, Jan 31.—Word has been received of the serious illness of the Rev. J. W. Taylor at his home in Long Beach. The Rev. Mr. Taylor was one of the first pastors of the Community Methodist church in Seal Beach.

PRIZES AWARDED IN CAKE CONTEST OF LA HABRA CLUB

LA HABRA, Jan. 31.—Prizes were awarded at a card party Thursday night to the winners in a cake baking contest sponsored by the January committee of the La Habra Woman's Improvement club under the chairmanship of Mrs. L .H. Brewer.

The grand prize was awarded to Mrs. R. E. Launer for her decorated angelfood cake; in the butter cake division for women, Mrs. E. H. Little won first; Mrs. William Sutherlen, second; sponge cakes, Mrs. F. P. Davis, first, and Mrs. H. S. Lytle, second.

In the men's division, Harlan Heet and Wilbur Proud were winners of first and second prizes for their butter cakes, and in the children's division, Anabel Shoemaker and Marjorie Glen were winners. The cake contest was held in the afternoon at the clubhouse with Mrs. Brewer, of Fullerton, and Miss Moore, home economics teacher at the Fullerton Union High school, as judges.

Six tables of contract bridge and five of auction were in play during the evening with prizes being awarded in contract to Miss Ruth Lana and A. C. Heap for high scores, and to Miss Anna Wolfe and Mrs. Willis, second. In auction winners were Mrs. Tom Lenine, of Anaheim, and O. T. Stephens, high, and Mrs. Wilbur Proud and L. H. Brewer, second high.

REPORTS GIVEN AT AUXILIARY SESSION

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 31—At the business session of the American Legion auxiliary this week delegates who attended a meeting of 21st district representatives at Orange gave reports. It was voted that the unit furnish necessary pins and badges for local Girl Scout Troop No. 1 for the year.

The social period of the evening was spent in playing bunco, Mayme St. Clair winning high score for the evening. Mrs. L. Clark, guest for the program, won second honors, and Mrs. Jessie Whitson was awarded the door prize. Georgette Gordon, president, was in charge.

Mrs. Bessie Pullen, publicity chairman of the unit, reported that a one-act play given by Eileen and Eleanor Randall was the feature of the last Junior auxiliary meeting, which was held in the Legion hall under the leadership of the organization counselor, Mrs. Mayme St. Clair. Virginia Jones received the door prize.

Announcement was made that the unit is invited by Girl Scout Troop No. 1 to be guests at a party by the latter on February 6.

Refreshments were served by Josephine Clouse, Margaret Estus and Helen Ann Grundy. Virginia Jones, Grace Crocker and Eileen Randall were given birthday gifts by the senior counselor.

Bridge Enjoyed In Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 31.—Members of a bridge club were entertained this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Simmons on Fifth street. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Carl Elders and Albert Simmons. Refreshments were served to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Elders, Mr. and Mrs. John Kolb, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Simmons.

BIRTHDAY OBSERVED

TUSTIN, Jan. 31. — In observance of his seventh birthday anniversary, George Gaylord jr., was host recently to 10 of his friends when his mother, Mrs. George Gaylord, entertained at a cowboy party at their home on Pacific avenue.

Appropriate games were played and refreshments were served by Mrs. Gaylord. Those invited to share the celebration with George jr. were Jack Forbes, Allen Enderle, Ronald Caldwell, Sidney Kaufman, Billy Lane, Howard Gorton, Clinton Smith, Harold Carson, Odel Carson and Dickie Korff.

FOUR LAGUNA BOYS WILL GO ON WORLD TRIP

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 31.—Four Laguna Beach boys are receiving congratulations as the result of having been selected to make a voyage around the world in the "Stranger," twin-Diesel powered yacht owned by Fred Lewis, of Newport Beach and the Diamond Bar ranch.

The four selected from Laguna are Milbert Thompson, who will act as radio operator; Ted Morris, Macaulay Ropp and Fred Moe, whose father is chief engineer on the "Stranger." The object of the tour, which is scheduled to start around March 1, is to collect tropical birds and fish, as well as other exotic specimens for the San Francisco Fleishhacker zoo, and for exhibition at the 1938 exposition to be held in the northern city. Following the round the world trip, another voyage to Alaska is scheduled by Lewis.

The "Stranger" is 262 feet long and carries a crew of 40, 22 of whom are licensed seamen, 18 Sea Scouts from Orange county. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Lewis on the voyage will be a party of relatives and friends.

BEACH ART JURY TO MEET FEB. 4

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 31.—The jury for the forthcoming February-March exhibition of the Laguna Art association will meet February 4, at the Art gallery. Members of the judging body are Thomas L. Hunt, Ivan Messenger, Richard Munsell, Ruth Peabody and Helen Smith.

February 3 has been set as the latest date on which paintings intended for exhibition can be received for consideration.

P.-T. A. GROUP COMMENTS ON NEW PICTURES

Six motion pictures to be released here within the near future or which have already been shown here, were recently previewed by representatives of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Recommendations of the previewers was released for publication in Santa Ana by Mrs. M. W. Hollingsworth, chairman of the motion picture committee of the Santa Ana Council, Parent-Teacher Association, as follows:

"The Bride Comes Home"

"The Bride Comes Home" —Paramount—directed by Wesley Ruggles. Cast: Claudette Colbert, Fred MacMurray, Robert Young, William Collier sr. "Immediately upon coming into his inheritance of several million dollars, a young man buys out a magazine, makes his erstwhile body guard editor and manager, hires a newly poor girl, and an old friend of his who comes to him for work, and foists her off on the new editor. The stormy love affair between the two furnishes most of the action, with the wealthy young man, Robert Young, furnishing the opposition. A slight plot but plenty of action and many amusing situations. Adults and young people.

"Dangerous Waters"

"Dangerous Waters" — Universal —directed by Lambert Hillyer. Cast: Jack Holt, Robert Armstrong, Grace Bradley, Diana Gibson, Charlie Murray. "A robust melodrama in which the doughty Jim Marlowe (Jack Holt) pits his brain and brawn against the villainy and inefficiency of a dubious ship's crew. Loose drinking, plus flagrant disregard of the properties defeat the good performances of seasoned screen performers.

"Exclusive Story"

"Exclusive Story" — MGM — directed by George B. Seitz. Cast: Franchot Tone, Madge Evans, Stuart Erwin. "A ruthless gangster mob victimizes a series of small shop owners through a 'number racket.' Action centers about the attractive daughter of one of the mob's victims, a crusading young reporter and the heir to the news sheet, specially delegated state prosecutor. A score of innocent citizens pay tribute with their lives to the machinations of the gangsters before their final apprehension. Generally unwholesome atmosphere and considerable casual drinking. Adults good, 14-18, doubtful; 8-14 no.

"Gentle Julia"

"Gentle Julia," — 20th Century-Fox—directed by John Blystone. Cast: Jane Withers, Tom Brown, Marsha Hunt, Jackie Searl. "The Tarkington atmosphere of the small middle-western town of several decades ago is caught and delightfully maintained in this story of Gentle Julia, the delectable village belle, whose affairs of the heart are settled by the irrepressible small cousin, Florence, which role is ably portrayed by the inimitable Jane Withers. Pleasant entertainment for youthful audiences and for adults who will recognize and appreciate many a situation whose counterpart they once knew well. Family and junior matinee."

"Man Hunt"

"Man Hunt"—Warner Brothers—directed by William Clemens. Cast: Ricardo Cortez, Marguerite Churchill, "Chic" Sale, William Gargan. "A romantic schoolma'rm with a weakness for Western pulp magazine stories, a skeptical reporter, and a self-styled 'Old Hero' are instrumental in the capture of a bandit gang. Fast moving melodrama, its background a small western town, with generous bits of comedy relief and an appealing love story. Adults, fair; 14-18, fair; 8-14, no."

"Road Gang"

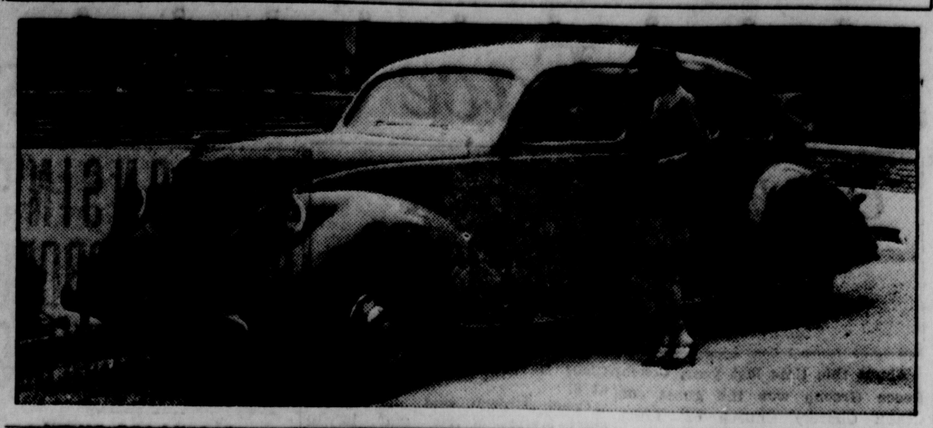

"Road Gang" — First National—directed by Louis King. Cast: Donald Woods, Kay Linaker, Carlysle Moore, Jr., Henry O'Neill. "A purported expose of conditions in several notoriously out-moded Southern prisons. Entertainment values fade in a series of brutally horrible incidents in which are sounded the depths of human depravity. Good direction and casting. Adults distasteful; children, no."

PEERS OF MOTORDOM AT LINCOLN SHOW

Latest type motors and examples of the coach builders' art will delight the eye in Los Angeles, February 1-8 during the Lincoln salon to be held at the Biltmore Hotel.

Meetings Held By La Habra Groups

LA HABRA, Jan. 31.—Dolls of India were displayed Tuesday afternoon to the sixth grade Girl Reserves, by their leader, Mrs. Opal Blohm, in illustrating the lesson for the afternoon. The dolls were brought here by the daughter of the Rev. E. E. Day, Presbyterian minister of Whittier.

It was announced that a former leader, Miss Ruth Snow, who has been quite ill, is nearly recovered.

The seventh grade group of Girl Reserves with their leader, Mrs. Lee Pride, spent their time this week at Newport Beach hunting sea shells for their project. Mrs. Pride was assisted with transportation by Mrs. E. B. Whittemore and Mrs. Charles Sadler. Virginia Buck of Inglewood, a former member of the group, was a guest. Others going were Norma May Cook, Virginia Hunborg, Inanelle Kelly, Kathryn Jessup, Janet Whittiemore, Dorothy Felton, Lora Carey, Colleen Pride, Rachel Wolf, Florence David, Nellie Lee Launders, Betty Brown and Betty Jean Smith.

The eighth grade group planned a skating party for February 7, to be held at the social hall.

LINCOLN SHOW TO OPEN FEBRUARY 1

The acme of motor car beauty will be displayed in Los Angeles February 1-8 at the Lincoln salon to be held in the Biltmore hotel. Not only will motor perfection be demonstrated but the art of America's most famous body builders will be on display, according to George Dunton, local Lincoln dealer.

During the salon the Lincoln Motor company will show a wide range of bodies by the nation's leading custom coachmakers, on the 150 horsepower Lincoln V-12 chassis for 1936. These bodies will include almost every conceivable type of luxury coach work, some produced by Lincoln craftsmen, other by such master coach builders as Judkins, LaBaron, Willoughby and Brunn.

An interesting feature of the showing will be the screening of the motion picture "Streamlines Make Headlines." This film makes clear the advanced engineering and remarkable performance of the Lincoln-Zephyr, whose modified bridge-truss design is considered by engineers the most important step forward in automobile design of recent years.

A HOME TOWN HABIT that spread across America!

Motorist told motorist the facts that won millions of users for Fire-Chief

You know that buying a certain gasoline gets to be a habit. It must take something unusual . . . some mighty strong reasons . . . to swing millions of motorists to Fire-Chief in preference to other brands.

You'll be interested in these reasons. Here they are . . . the definite, specific facts that made the demand for Fire-Chief spread . . . town by town, state by state, to unprecedented nation-wide popularity.

AN EMERGENCY DUTY gasoline . . . Texaco Fire-Chief meets the rigid Government specifications* for fire-engine and ambulance service. Yet it sells at regular gasoline prices.

TOURISTS CARRIED the fame of Fire-Chief across the country so that now it is sold in every State.

THE GREAT AIRLINES must buy carefully. Texaco products are used regularly by such leading airlines as TWA, Baniff, Delta and Northwest.

FOUR OF THE FIRST-PRIZE winners for the past five years in the national bus line contests for efficiency in maintenance and operation have been regular users of Fire-Chief.

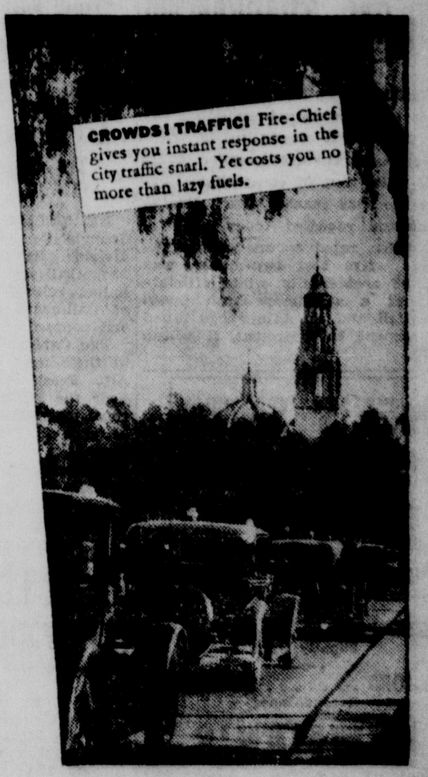

Look about you. You'll find a Fire-Chief station or dealer nearby . . . and countless more from coast to coast. Look for the Texaco sign when you buy.

'PORKY' BELL CONTEMPLATES CAREER AS BOXER

Influenced perhaps by the phenomenal success of Joe Louis and John Henry Lewis, popular Fred ("Porky") Bell contemplates a career in the prize ring.

Bell is the most efficient colored athlete ever produced here.

Right halfback on the undefeated Saint football team of 1931, he broke loose for the long touchdown run which led to San Diego's first defeat by Santa Ana in a decade. He played two years as a blocking back for the Santa Ana Dons, once intercepted a pass and ran 80-odd yards to tie the Southern California frosh in a big upset.

An inspirational athlete, he always seemed best when they were playing for keeps.

'Porky' Bell

"Porky" has no false illusions about his fistic possibilities. But he is willing to try anything once. He is rugged and strong, and Santa Ana never has had a gamer athlete. He doesn't profess to know whether he can punch. Always modest, he simply makes no claims at all.

Bell admits he has been working out in the ring, more or less secretly, for two weeks.

He thinks he'll be ready to go in a couple more.

His training partner is a husky race youth named Profit Wilson, who comes in at 190 pounds. Bell scales 165. These, of course, are stripped weights. Wilson and Bell probably will be handled by Johnny Torres, who has a stable of local battlers.

"Porky" will make his debut at the Orange County Athletic club, which is given over to amateur fighters. If and when he gets good enough, he'll be ready to step into professional company.

What the fight game here has needed for a long time is a good "local card." If Bell can fight at all he'll fit the bill.

The real All-America track team can be found among the freshmen at the University of Southern California. Just a few of the frisky colts who'll wear S. C. unies this spring:

Orville Mathews of Chickasha, Okla., who has run the 100 in 9.7 and the 220 in 21.2; Robert Hunt of Oklahoma City, who has high-jumped 6:5 1-2; Al Corley, even-time sprinter from Port Arthur, Tex.; Tom Swift, an appropriately-named quarter-miler from Atlanta, Ga.; Fred Tanner, half-miler from Newton, Kans.; Paul Krueger, a hurdler from Wallingford, Conn.; Bill Bloomfield, 23-foot broad-jumper from Culver, Ind.

Trojan scouts didn't ignore the native stock either. Fullerton's John Raitt, state champion, will be a big shot in the shot. Dale Schuyler of Carpenteria ran a 4:28 mile last year. Doug Hammond of Hollywood was under 50 seconds in the 440 two years ago. Johnny Lindell of Monrovia was the No. 2 prep high hurdler in the state. Fresno contributes a 6:2 jumper named Erwin Austin.

Disclosing official handicapping figures for the first half of Santa Anita's 58-day meeting, The Examiner makes much ado that its turf expert Maurice Bernard leads all others for the second successive year.

What The Examiner neglects to mention is that if a bettor played even expert Handicapper Bernard's choices religiously he long since would be broke.

Less than 23 per cent of Bernard's selections finished in front.

Noteworthy is the fact that a woman, Martha Townsend of the Daily News, is second to Bernard.

COLLINS FAVORED OVER POWELL

Don Ruggers Face Champs

SANTA MONICA CLUB HERE FOR SECOND GAME

Santa Ana sport fanatics get their second peek at that highly entertaining English pastime that is beleaguering the Southland when Coach Al Reboin's Dons go postward with the Santa Monica Union rugby team in the Municipal Bowl tonight at 8 o'clock.

Quick to capture the enthusiasm of the crowd in their initial appearance, the jaysee ruggers anticipate a full house and are out to show the home folk that the step from football—which they play so well—to rugby is a short one. Playing their first contest, the junior collegians held the strong Pasadena clubmen to an 8-0 victory.

On conclusion of that struggle the Pasadenans were quoted as saying, "We would hate to play this bunch in two weeks after they have caught on to the fundamentals."

The Santa Monicans haven't tasted defeat in two years, the nearest thing to a setback being a tie game with the Pasadena A. C. Santa Monica boasts an impressive record, including first place in the Merrivale cup series. In this tournament they had to dispose of the Pasadena Majors, Echo Park and Hollywood.

Clois Key, who astounded the football world last fall with his "great impersonation" at U. C. L. A. is one of Santa Monica's mainstays. The ex-Bruin fullback performs in the break-away position.

All of them well-schooled in rugby, the Santa Monica fifteen lines up like this: hook, Shankland; forwards, Stickel, Beck, Losse, Snell, Bollas and Jeffries; break-aways, Bivens and Key; scrum half, Brown; stand-off half, McIsaac; three-quarters, Hooper and Garrett; wings, Bartlett and North; fullback, Mason. Ed Bivens, Key's teammate at break-away, was an all-conference half in the Western junior college conference last fall.

Coach Al Reboin will "start" himself at stand-off half. Other junior collegians will be the same as those who saw service a week ago. Dick Connell, Art Craft, Fred Pinkston, John Lehnhardt, Al Titensor, Howard Rash, Fred Lentz, and Bob Holmes in the scrum with a fast backfield made up of Joe Herbert, Ted Butterworth, Major Anderson, Hal Mosiman, Al Lamb, Jack Wilson and Reboin.

Coach Reece Greene To Charley Church 'How About Dinner?

About this time last year, Coach Reece Greene was the guest of Coach Charley Church of Long Beach at two dinners because Santa Ana high school's basketball team defeated Alhambra twice, thereby making it possible for Long Beach to take the Coast league championship.

Greene's Saints can win their mentor another dinner tonight. Coach Church will gladly be host again if Santa Ana defeats San Diego in Andrews gymnasium because only Santa Ana bars San Diego's path to the 1936 title.

If the Saints should knock over the Hillers, Long Beach could sneak into a tie with the Hillers by defeating Alhambra. The Moors have the same remote opportunity. Jackrabbits and Moors tangle at Long Beach.

Santa Ana and San Diego go into their clinch here at 7 o'clock, an hour earlier than usual. The Class B "preliminary" will go on at 8.

Coach Greene said he would start Merle Morris and Erwin Youel, forwards; Ed Eastham, center, and Bill Flood and Sam Lockhart, guards. This will be the last prep game for Flood and Eastham, who become nine-semester men next week.

Coast league standings:

COAST PREPARATORY LEAGUE

San Diego	4	1	.800
Alhambra	3	2	.600
Long Beach	3	2	.600
Santa Ana	0	5	.000

BRADDOCK HAS REAL DOUBLE

Holtz, Slinging Golfer, Still Has Arm In Sling

JOCKEYS MORE HONEST NOW

BY HENRY M'LEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 31.—Putting the sports shot here and there:

Jim Braddock's exhibition sparring partner, one Jack McCarthy of Boston, looks more like Braddock than the heavyweight champion does himself. . . . Honestly, you can't tell them apart across a room, and McCarthy shares the autographing and photographing burden. . . . It might be a smart idea for Braddock to let his double fight Louis for him. . . .

The Hollywood Kennel club near here uses visible starting boxes and it is very distressing, as it allows you to see the mutt carrying your hopes and two dollars taking a nap when the rabbit starts. . . . "Man Mountain" Dean, who is spending the winter here so as to give his whiskers full benefit of the sunshine, says he is the world's greatest wrestler because "I look screwier and can out-holler anybody in the business" . . . which is an explanation as thoroughly scientific as modern day wrestling. . . . Lou Holtz, comedian, still is wearing his right arm in a sling as a result of his bet that he could throw a golf ball around the Miami-Biltmore course in fewer than 130 tosses. . . . He was out in 60 and back in 60—sinking all putts—to collect $2550 in bets, which is more than Horton Smith made for winning the $10,000 open. . . .

Johnny Revolta says the greatest golf shot he ever played was a spoon shot in the final round of the 1935 P. G. A. championship against Tommy Armour. . . . In the face of a high wind he laid the ball a foot from the cup, 230 yards from the tee. Walter Hagen, however, rates Johnny's four explosions from traps in their first-round match, as the four finest shots he ever saw. . . . King Edward VIII's grandfather, King Edward VII, was the only British monarch ever to win racing's highest honor—the triple crown. . . . His Diamond Jubilee, in 1896, won the Derby, the 2000 Guineas, and the St. Leger. . . . But Edward VIII, along with former King Alfonso of Spain, holds the distinction of being the only top-flight polo-playing monarch. . . .

Kaye Don believes that the winner of the road-beach race at Daytona-Beach in March will have to average better than 100 miles an hour. . . . The race, the first of its kind in the United States, is patterned after the Isle of Man round-the-houses event. . . .

Tom Thorp, veteran racing official and writer who has been watching the thoroughbreds since the time of Black Beauty, thinks present day jockeys are better riders and more honest than the famed boys of the past. . . . He rates Johnny Gilbert as the best rider of two-year-olds he ever saw. . . . Napoleon Jock Dorval, one of "Doctor" Jack Kearns' many heavyweight hopes of the past, is trying to melt off some of his 275 pounds for a comeback go. . . . Jimmy Johnston of Madison Square Garden wants Max Marek, the boy who licked Louis as an amateur, to take a shot at John Henry Lewis, light heavy champion. . . . Jim Braddock weighed 181 when he fought Art Lasky last winter, 190 when he fought Baer last June, and now weighs between 210 and 215. . . . He plans to weigh 197 for his next fight.

WISCONSIN'S REGENTS PROBE GRID DRINKING

By WILLARD SMITH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 31.—Evidence that the University of Wisconsin football team, which finished at the bottom of the Big Ten conference, had been provided liquor by its officials threatened today to list it among the horrible examples cited by the W. C. T. U.

It also threatened a whole house-cleaning or drastic reorganization of the university athletic department.

Sooner or later someone is bound to call the matter to the attention of Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, national president of the W. C. T. U., or her predecessor, Mrs. Ella Boole. Right now it is being thrown up to the university regents, investigating Wisconsin's athletic troubles.

Spiked Coffee, Charge

Affidavits charging that Dr. Clarence Spears, head football coach, ordered his players served coffee spiked with brandy or whisky before major games were reliably reported in possession of the regents.

Dr. Walter Meanwell, university athletic director, under questioning by the regents investigating committee, previously admitted he gave drinks to two of the players.

John Golemgeske, football captain-elect, accused Meanwell of prompting him to circulate a petition for ouster of Spears after the disastrous 1935 season. Meanwell also gave him a drink in midseason, he added.

Spears Testifies Feb. 6

Dissatisfied with a faculty investigation which exonerated Meanwell, the regents who are political appointees and claim final powers in such matters, began their own inquiry. Spears is scheduled to testify Feb. 6, and the regents expect to decide what to do about it all by Feb. 14.

Meanwell defended the right of a physician to give the players liquor within his own discretion, when before the regents this week. Spears has the same medical qualification. Laymen likened the administration of liquor to Wisconsin players before their 33 to 7 defeat by Minnesota in the last game this season to taking a drink before having a tooth pulled.

The regents this wek asked David (Moose) Tobias, varsity tackle in 1932, what appeared to be the matter with the teams since his day.

"They can't take it," Tobias explained.

SKI QUEEN

Lucille Westberg, above, will rule as queen of the National Ski Tournament when that meet is staged in Red Wing, Minn., Feb. 1-2. The tournament is being held in connection with the golden anniversary of the Aurora Ski Club of Red Wing, which is the oldest ski organization in America. Three hundred skiers are expected to compete before 50,000 spectators.

WINNER OF GO TONIGHT GETS LE MON MATCH

TONIGHT'S CARD

Ernie Collins vs. Hub Powell, light-heavys.
Ray Valenzuella vs. Al Garcia, lightweights.
Don Benzor vs. Tony Costello, feathers.
Henry Watenburg vs. Felix McCullen, middleweights.
Benny Collins vs. Danny Moreno, bantams.
Chief Davis vs. Art Forrest, lightweights.
Ken Holiday vs. "Wild Bill" Buffalo, welters.
Lee Oliver vs. Jimmy Merced, feathers.

Ernie Collins, the full-blooded American Indian light-heavyweight from the Sherman Institute of Arlington, fully recovered from his recent attact of flu and eager to land a return match with Lupe LeMon, swings into action tonight at the Orange County Athletic club against Hub Powell, willing, hard-hitting Los Angeles Negro. Collins heads a parade of Indian boxers.

The odds favor the colorful Collins, although base upon comparative performance against LeMon, the fight rates a toss-up.

Collins will be in there fighting for another crack at LeMon, and while Powell isn't particularly keen about hooking up with the Fullerton puncher again, he indicated he wouldn't pass up the match if the opportunity presented itself.

Two weeks ago Powell fought LeMon off the latter's feet, only to lose a hairline decision. Had the lads been professionals, Reggie Gilmore, the referee, said afterwards that he would have called it a draw, but according to amateur rules a decision must be rendered. Gilmore figured LeMon had a slight edge.

The word is out that Collins plans to try for a quick kayo and then spend two weeks conditioning himself for his second fling at LeMon. Powell's handler, Frankie Garcia, claims that Hub will just naturally upset these plans.

Henry Watenburg, Hi Gill's middleweight, is coming up from San Juan Capistrano with a rooting section of 50 friends to fight Felix McCullen of Downey. Ken Holliday of Anaheim is taking on the highly rated "Wild Bill" Buffalo in another feature scrap.

Al Garcia, Santa Ana lightweight, makes his first 1936 battle in the semi-final against Ray Valenzuella, the fighting fool of the Indian team. Valenzuella lost a questionable decision to Bill White last week. Fans thought Referee Dolan booted it, and so did most of the boxing writers.

Don Benzor, Anaheim featherweight, is another popular Orange county scrapper, who returns to fistic wars here for the first time in weeks. Don takes on Tony Costello, Indian socker who belted out Ray Valarde in less than two minutes last week. The first bout is billed for 8:30.

TUSTIN FIGHTS ANAHEIM FIVE FOR LOOP LEAD

First test of championship strength in the Orange league's red hot basketball race comes tonight when two of the four undefeated leaders, Tustin and Anaheim, meet in Anaheim's "cheesebox" gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

Anaheim is slightly favored, although the Colonists have seldom been able to win important games from Coach Bill Cole's court creations in past years, even on their abbreviated floor where most Anaheim opponents have plenty of trouble.

Anaheim defeated Garden Grove 69-37 and Newport Harbor 30-17, showing more punch but less defense than Tustin. The Farmers will be at full strength, Center Don Kennedy's sore throat being improved enough to warrant Cole naming him as a starter. Sam and Paul Francis will be at forward, Lawrence Monroy and Walt Linker at guard.

Anaheim will have Hank Ruiz and Nolan Beat, forwards; Archie Baker, center, and Ted DeVellbis and Kenny Dougan, guards.

Huntington Beach and San Juan Capistrano, also undefeated, have comparatively easy assignments tonight but Orange may have trouble at Garden Grove, and the Brea-Valencia joust is strictly a toss-up.

ORANGE LEAGUE STANDINGS

	W.	L.	Pct.
Tustin	2	0	1000.
Huntington Beach	2	0	1000.
San Juan Capistrano	2	0	1000.
Anaheim	2	0	1000.

BIG TEN FIVES BEATEN

An unbeaten season is a rarity for a football team, but it's almost a miracle in basketball. Before the present season had reached its halfway mark, every team in the Big Ten had been beaten at least once.

CLIP 6 OFF PAR IN CATALINA'S TOURNEY

AVALON, Jan. 31.—Two western pros today led more than 100 of America's outstanding golfers into the second round of the $5000 Catalina Open golf tournament with par-shattering 60's.

The leaders, Ted Longworth of Portland, and Fred Morrison of Pasadena, clipped six strokes from the island course par as they shot steady, brilliant golf in the first round yesterday.

After going out in 32, Walter Hagen made the return nine in 29 to take second honors for the opening day with a 61.

CAPT. FOWLER LOST TO CAL. TRACKMEN?

BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—Injury to a foot tendon may keep Bob Fowler, University of California track team captain and premier coast two-miler, out of competition during the 1936 season, Coach Brutus Hamilton revealed today.

Fowler, rated as one of the nation's five best two-milers, was kicked accidentally while officiating at a sophomore-frosh brawl last fall and the injury has failed to respond to treatment, Hamilton said.

DAVISCOURT, SZABO MIX AGAIN MONDAY

Dick Daviscourt, the latest mat villian of this section, today signed to meet Sandor Szabo, Hungarian Adonis, in Monday night's wrestling feature at the Orange County Athletic club, although Szabo refused terms, asking for another week to prepare for the match.

Should Szabo continue to hold out, Sampson will attempt to land Bill Sledge, the Dixie heavyweight, to oppose the rough Daviscourt. Sledge held Szabo to a draw Monday night on the same card that saw Daviscourt batter down Herb Freeman in straight falls.

George (The Great) Calza also will appear on the coming mat card. Sampson signed the "Trust Buster" today, after Calza agreed to meet any opponent available.

Bears Seek Spot In Titular Race By Beating Reds

BERKELEY, Jan. 31.—Stanford defends its lead in the Southern division, Pacific Coast conference basketball race tonight when the Indians clash with the University of California quintet in the second contest of their annual series.

The Cardinals defeated the Bears in their first engagement at Palo Alto. Fresh from a double victory over the U. C. L. A. Bruins, the third-place Bears definitely would be back in the race if they could turn in a win over Stanford.

Southern California and U. C. L. A. meet in another Southern division game tomorrow night in Los Angeles.

COAST LEAGUE VOTES ON STARS' TRANSFER

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—Pacific Coast league club owners voted today on the proposition of transferring the Hollywood club to San Diego. The vote was taken by telegraph. Under league regulations, consent of three-fourths of the club owners was required.

SUSPEND CHIEF FOR 'GREAT WHITE HATE'

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 31.—Chief Chiwaki, gypsy wrestler, was suspended for 60 days by the state athletic commission today when he maintained he still "hated white men and always will hate them."

The bulky grappler previously had been given an indefinite suspension for attempting to strangle Gino Garibaldi, Italian wrestler, with a steel wire during a match in San Diego.

At the time Chiwaki claimed he was not responsible for his actions in the ring because of his great hate for white men. The athletic commission decided that he might learn to love white men in 60 days and slapped on the suspension.

Turning to other business, the athletic commission granted wrestling licenses to clubs in Pomona and Santa Barabra.

ORANGE CINCHES 'Y' LEAGUE HOOP TITLE

Orange's Concordians cinched their division of the Southern California Y. M. C. A. basketball league last night with a 42-20 victory over Ontario, last year's champion.

So Santa Ana's Woolen Mills can win from Alhambra here tonight but it won't mean anything. Orange still has two more games to go, one of 'em with the Woolen Mills, but the other is with the weak South Pasadena quintet which hasn't won a game.

The Woolen Mills bowled over Lehr's Service of Anaheim, 33-27, at Anaheim last night. Lineups:

Roeschlaub (4)	F. (6) Peterson
Cate (4)	F. (4) McDonald
Vail (10)	C. (16) Acker
Chambers	G. (2) Schwarm
Tanaka (2)	G. (5) White

Suhr May Join Brooklyn Team In Triple Trade

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—A three-cornered trade was reported brewing today between baseball clubs of Pittsburgh, Brooklyn and New York.

The Dodgers are anxious to trade some of their surplus outfield talent—they have 11 outfielders—to the Pirates for First Baseman Gus Suhr. If Manager Casey Stengel can swing the deal, he will attempt to peddle First Baseman Sam Leslie to the Giants for Hank Danning, second string catcher, and an infielder.

PIRATES PURCHASE SCHULTE OF SOLONS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 31. — The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today the purchase of Fred Shulte, Washington outfielder, for an unrevealed amount of money.

Sioux Five Beats Willard Blackfeet

BY JIMM'E CARRILLO

The Sioux disposed of the Blackfeet yesterday 20-16, in an exciting game in the Frances Willard junior high school intermural basketball series. High scorers were Bill Patterson, Jimmie Carrillo, Paul Higashi. The lineups:

Sioux (20)		(16) Blackfeet
Dreblow	F.	(6) Patterson
Jacobs (2)	F.	Reynoso
P. Higashi (20)	C.	(4) Benitez
Harvey (2)	G.	Hull
Robinson	G.	(6) Carrillo

AUSTRALIA IN U. S. DAVIS CUP DIVISION

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The British Lawn Tennis association announced today only three countries would challenge for the Davis Cup this year from the American zone: United States, Australia and Cuba. This is the smallest entry in years from that zone.

Twenty challengers will compete in the European zone, including Argentina. Entries closed today. England will defend the historic tennis trophy.

With Australia competing in the American zone for the first time since 1932 and possessing a formidable team, the United States is regarded by European tennis experts as facing the stiffest opposition in years in its own zone.

The Australian team, probably including Jack Crawford, Adrian Quist, Vivian McGrath and Don Turnbull, will journey to the U. S. for the American zone competition, for which dates and sites will be set later by the United States Tennis association.

Last year four countries challenged from the American zone: United States, China, Mexico and Cuba. The U. S. team won the right to go to Europe, and over there won the inter-zone final but lost to the defending British in the challenge round.

In addition to Argentia, other countries challenging in the European zone are Austria, Belgium, China, Czecho-Slovakia, Denmark, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Ireland, Monaco, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Roumania, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and Jugoslavia.

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

OUR BOARDING HOUSE — By AHERN

"Oh, gee, but we've had lots of fun. Our boat's shaped like a galleon, and now it's almost finished," said wee Coppy, with a smile.

"'Tis well the stream is very near. I'd hate to push this far from here. I only hope that it will float. We'll find out after while."

Then Scouty snapped, "I know, right now. Why, years ago I learned just how to make a small boat watertight. This craft will sail the seas.

"I trust the girl's sail's big enough to haul the boat. If it gets rough, we'll take the sail right down, and simply coast along at ease."

• • •

Soon Dotty said, "We're set, at last. Now put our sail up on the mast, and you will find that it's all right. We're proud of what we've done.

"The wind won't rip the sail, I'm sure, unless our workmanship is poor." And then she eyed the boat and cried, "There's room for everyone."

The sail was fastened good and tight and then wee Duncy Tinymite exclaimed, "Come on, let's launch our craft and quickly sail away.

"The two girls can sit in the rear, and maybe you'd like me to steer." "Aw, let's take turns," snapped Coppy. "You can be the first, today."

• • •

Round limbs were placed upon the ground, so they could roll the boat around. When once they got it started, pushing was not hard at all.

They reached the stream, and in it went. Then just a little time was spent in everybody boarding it. Fair Goldy cried, "Don't fall!"

"Oh, I'll wade in. I do not mind, and it will help a lot, you'll find," said Scouty. "Someone steer the thing until it's pointed right."

He pushed, and then heard Dotty shout, "Oh, look! The sail is willing out. We'll travel with the breeze, now. What a very pretty sight!"

CATTLEMEN INVITED TO DEMONSTRATION

Cattlemen and dairy farmers are urged to attend a livestock feed preparation demonstration to be held February 7 at the Roy Mills Feed yards, corner of Wright street and Trask avenue, southwest of Garden Grove. The demonstration is being sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service.

Assistant Farm Advisor W. M. Cory, who will have charge of the demonstration said that it would require approximately two and one-half hours and will start promptly at 1:30 p. m.

Subjects to be discussed during the program will include composition of common concentrates and their place in rations, the desirability of various degrees of fineness of feed for different classes of livestock, equipment used in feed grinding, costs of grinding and methods adaptable for use. In connection with the discussion there will be a demonstration of grinding by a hammer mill and burr mill.

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

By PAUL HARRISON, Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 31.—Things I'd like to have seen or heard: Gary Cooper's first performance for the screen. It was a cowboy picture, but had a dream sequence about Robin Hood and Sherwood Forest. They put Cooper into long, green tights and leather jacket, and gave him a quiver full of arrows. When Billie Dove, the queen, rode by in a chariot, Cooper jumped up and down, clapping his hands and registering happiness.

"ROSE MARIE" TO OPEN WEST COAST ENGAGEMENT TODAY

Hailed as one of the greatest films of all times, "Rose Marie," opens today at the West Coast theater with Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy again teamed in the starring roles.

Miss MacDonald and Eddy help the production to entertainment value exceeding even that which was experienced in "Naughty Marietta," one of the great hits of the past year, according to critics.

In theme, "Rose Marie" is a human interest love drama in which the element of beautiful music, finely sung, is an integral factor. Hauntingly beautiful music, gorgeous scenery and an excellent cast and direction make this an exceptional photoplay, critics have said.

The film tells the romantic story of an opera diva and a Royal Canadian mounted policeman. Rushing to the north woods to aid her brother who is sought by the mounted police, Miss MacDonald is robbed and deserted by her guide. There she meets and falls in love with the mountie whose duty it is to capture her brother. The scene shifts to the opera, where the diva finds only unhappiness. She collapses and is forced to return north for her health. There again she meets the man who had claimed her heart.

The picture is not without many light moments and laughs, for the large cast includes many laugh-provoking actor. The cast includes Reginald Owen, Allan Jones, James Stewart, Alan Mowbry, Gilda Gray, George Regas, Robert Greig, Una O'Connor, Lucien Littlefield, David Nivens and Herman Bing.

CHURCH TO SHOW FILMS OF INDIA

Motion pictures of India will be shown tonight at the Church of the Brethren, Ross and Camille streets, by the Rev. Leland S. Brubaker, pastor of the Covina Church of the Brethren, who will accompany the picture with explanatory remarks.

The Rev. Mr. Brubaker obtained the pictures himself, while with a deputation visiting the mission fields of the church. The trip lasted 11 months, the party returning six months ago.

The film tonight will show the India mission fields in action, according to the Rev. H. B. Landis, pastor of the local church. The Rev. Mr. Brubaker, he said, spent three years as a missionary in China and understands the mission spirit.

On February 14, the Rev. Mr. Brubaker will show three reels of Africa pictures, taken on the same trip.

PLAYERS START FINAL WEEKS OF REHEARSAL

Entering with enthusiasm into the final weeks of rehearsal for "Cock Robin," members of the Community Players' cast to appear in the popular mystery drama by Elmer Rice and Philip Barry, are enjoying the grand sport of razzing their own organization.

For "Cock Robin" has the unusual distinction of being a play within a play, and the mystery develops when a little theater group is preparing for one of its productions. Needless to say there is much sly fun poking, and the local cast presenting the play, is well selected for the very qualities that are needed to make this situation a gay and convincing one for the actual audience.

The entire first act of "Cock Robin" is showing a play rehearsal and is a definite building up towards the hair-raising mystery that takes the play from the comedy school into that of tragedy and suspense. Gladys Simpson Shafer, director, and her cast are meeting almost nightly in the home of Mrs. Charles A. Riggs, 901 Spurgeon street, where lines and action are being whipped into shape in readiness for dress rehearsals and actual performances in Ebell auditorium.

Production dates are Friday and Saturday nights, February 7 and 8. So much interest was aroused by the association's opening play, "The Bellamy Trial," that it is believed that "Cock Robin" will be equally well received, and that the association will have the best season in several years.

Individual members of the cast are offering every co-operation, according to the director. There have been few changes necessary since roles were first assigned, but one of these was a major change, when the important part of "Richard Lane" remained to be filled. In the emergency, the casting committee called upon John Colwell, who despite conflicting duties and demands upon his time, agreed to give his assistance.

"Old Home Week"

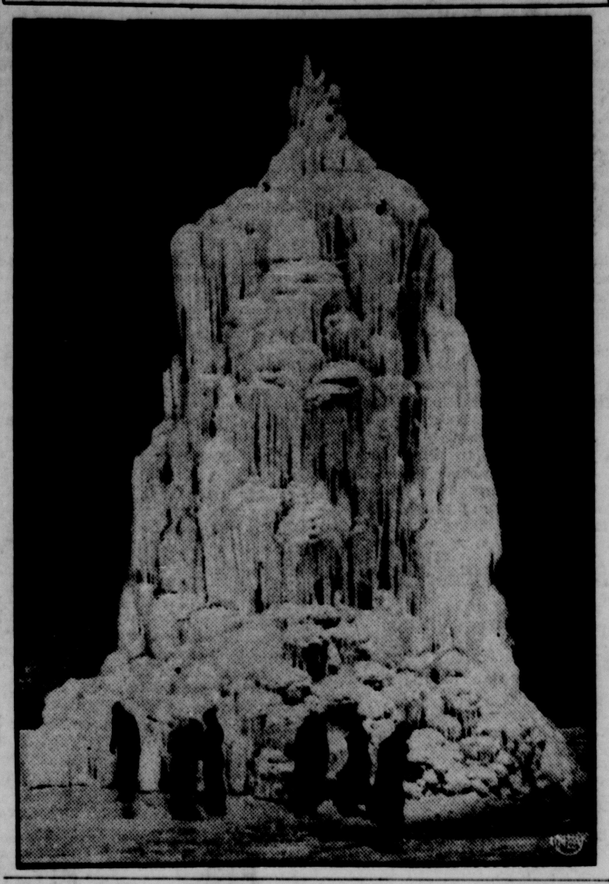

It will be "Old Home Week" for many in the cast who have appeared in various Community plays. But there will be a number of newcomers also, although several have worked only in informal programs at The Barn. Of special interest is the fact that Mary Swarthout as "Carlotta Maxwell" and John Swarthout as "Clarke Torrance," will be strangers to the local stage, yet will have their first major roles with the Players. But both appeared here in prize-winning plays in the annual Southern California tournament of One-Act Plays, when they were U.S.C. students. Now they are living in Santa Ana, for Jack Swarthout is a member of the high school faculty.

Paul Veley is another newcomer whose work will be watched with special interest, for he has had a successful stage career as leading man and character actor with various New York successes, and also appeared in London and the provinces where he was equally well received.

The cast also includes J. Leslie Steffensen, Daniel Brown, Harold Fish, Julia Ann Hyde, Leonard Baker, Frederick Wright Briggs, Gertrude Horn and Helen Moomaw.

KING ZERO'S MONUMENT

When shivering Detroiters see this gleaming tower of ice, like a fantastic dream in architecture, they know that winter has arrived in full force. Flow of the fountain, in Belle Isle park, is started every year with the advent of cold weather, resulting in a spectacle of natural beauty that attracts thousands. Tons were added to the bulk of the ice mass by the sub-zero wave which swept across the nation, taking more than 100 lives.

Regarding Contests

Many established writers pick up an extra income—sometimes quite a sizable one—by following the contests. These range all the way from the advertising stunts to the contests held by book publishers for novels, biographies, etc.

Included in the list of contest possibilities are:

Names for products, solutions to puzzles or problems, letters, slogans, ideas, jingles, recipes, last lines to limericks.

The winning of these prizes is not a matter of luck, however much the disappointed contestant may think it is. The fact that prizes are awarded to the same people, over and over, proves one point: These contestants take their "business" seriously. They devote time and thought to the subject. They don't hop onto the first "hot" idea that presents itself, and send it off to the contest before it has cooled down sufficiently to show its real shape.

Product Analysis

Product analysis is essential in certain types of contests. An original, at at least an appealing way of preparing the entry is necessary in every contest. Neatness and careful attention to the rules are essential.

Many contests are announced over the radio. Keep a pencil and paper handy if you are going in for this type of announcement.

Writer's magazines carry news of many contests. This is particularly true of books and short stories.

Local newspapers and local business houses offer another field for the person who wishes to pick up some extra money by the contest route.

Rules Are Necessary

Be sure you have all the rules before you prepare your entry.

I disregarded this, myself, not long ago, and am just in receipt of my entry, with the rules enclosed, and a note from the organization, telling me that my material was "so good they didn't want to see it disqualified because I had not complied with the rules." But it's seldom a contest committee will go to all that trouble and expense. You can be sure I'm going to absorb those rules, and get that material back to them, properly prepared, and with my most profuse thanks!

Don't hesitate to tackle a contest because you've never done so before. You may have just the fresh point of view—or attack—that will make you a winner. Many people have a flair for the "solution" contest. You may have someone in the family who can do the solving, but who couldn't write it up properly.

Collaborate. Maybe it will take two or three of you to win a prize. But some of the prizes are plenty large enough to divide three ways, and give three persons a real thrill.

There are magazines on the news stand devoted exclusively to contests. These contests are usually announced in other ways, but if you are in a hurry to get a complete list in your hands, the contest magazines offer a satisfactory method.

VERY UPSTANDING YOUTH

A very upstanding youth is Robert Wadlow, 8 feet 4 inches tall and still growing, as can be seen when he looms far over the top of the taxi, courteously holding open the door for his father, Harold Wadlow. The 17-year-old Alton, Ill., boy, who now weighs 400 pounds, was in Chicago to look over some oversized footwear at the National Shoe Fair, as his feet have developed in proportion to his height and weight.

DEFENSE FOR NATION TOPIC AT DAV MEET

A delegation from Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, is expected to attend a district meeting in Riverside Sunday, it was announced today following the regular meeting of the local chapter when Capt. Raymond E. Smith, Reserve Corps, was the featured speaker.

Captain Smith gave a detailed account of the national defense program stating that although congress last year authorized an army strength of 165,000 that today but 135,000 are in service. He deplored the unpreparedness that existed on America's entry into the World war that was responsible for officers with 90 days' training leading green troops.

Causes Of War

"The fundamental causes of war are the same today as they have been for time immemorial," Smith stated. "We must be prepared for such exigencies," he said. "The enactment of the Universal Service Act would be a step forward," Smith continued. He cited the enormous drop in exports and increased imports as one of the causes of unemployment at the present time.

Commander V. L. Brown presided and introduced John F. Burke, Riverside, past commander, and Hugh Harrell, Riverside, eighth district adjutant, who addressed the meeting briefly, the latter inviting a large delegation from Jack Fisher chapter to attend the district meeting at Riverside on Sunday.

Russell Crouse was well received in a group of solos including "The Gypsy Trail" and "At the End of the Road" and responded with an encore number. Miss Mildred Marchant was accompanist.

Following the meeting a buffet lunch was served by members of the auxiliary during the social hour.

VALERIE SNOW TO APPEAR IN AMATEUR SHOW

Valerie Snow, recent winner in the Orange County Peace Officers' Beauty contest, was today signed to appear in the Santa Ana "Search For Talent Contest" to be staged at the Legion hall here Monday night, February 3, it was announced today by C. B. Taylor, in charge of the local event. Miss Snow is a talented singer and will appear in the competition for prize awards and professional bookings being offered.

Registrations for the contest were closed last night with the following Santa Ana amateurs qualified to take part in the entertainment: Ruth Oakes, harpist, Kenneth Ulrich, whistler; Howard Basselle, comedian; Nelson Rogers, baritone; Madeline Paxton, accordionist and singer; Marvyn Crawford, tap dancer; Fredrick Garland, baritone; Virginia Stewart, pianist; Carroll Miller, talented child actress; and Valerie Snow, blues singer.

Added to the list of prize awards today was a permanent wave to be presented to one of the feminine winners. An art portrait is another award and a dress is another one of the prizes. Other awards include a box of candy and an art gift.

Program Given For Brotherhood

FULLERTON, Jan. 31.—A double program was presented at the Methodist brotherhood meeting at the Methodist church Wednesday night, the first being an illustrated talk at the dinner table by Dr. Lewis E. Durham, artist, lecturer and traveler, a graduate of U. S. C., and the second a musical program and sermon by the quartet and the pastor of the Country church of Hollywood.

More than 140 men and boys attended. The latter meeting was in the church auditorium, which was well filled for the affair. Ernest Stone, president, presided.

Dr. Durham will start a series of lectures next Sunday morning at the Methodist church.

The program by the "Goose Creek" quartet and the pastor of the Country church, Rube Simmons, included quartet and solo vocal numbers and piano selections and the discussion by the pastor.

TRAVEL CLASS TO SEE WINTER SPORT PICTURE

Lovers of winter sports will find the travel talk to be given the night of February 4, in Willard school auditorium, under auspices of the Adult Education department, of particular interest it was announced today. The lecture will start promptly at 7:30 p. m.

According to Julia Ann Hyde, manager of the travel service bureau of the Commercial National Bank, the title of the motion picture to be shown in connection with the travel talk will be titled "Winter Sports in the Bavarian Alps."

The films, showing world figures in Winter sports competition against a background of scenic beauty found no place else except the Bavarian Alps, were taken during the tryouts for the Winter Olympic Games. The pictures were obtained from the Hamburg-American Line and will be shown by Hans Bauer, representative of the line. Bauer also will lecture on the scenes shown in the pictures.

The battle of Manila was started at 5 a. m., but shortly thereafter the American squadron withdrew to permit the officers and men to eat breakfast.

KEYHOLE LIGHT IS PATENTED BY SANTA ANA MAN

Sometime in the future enthusiastic celebrants returning to their homes in the "wee sma' hours" will bless the name of David E. Smiley, 1415 North Garnsey street.

According to word received today from Washington, D. C., Smiley has just received a patent for his invention of an illuminated keyhole that will eliminate all possibility of fumbling at the floor searching for the place to insert the key.

The invention provides a small lamp, operated by a battery, that illuminates the keyhole. The patent has been pending since March, 1933 in the United States Patent Office pending examination as to originality and improvement. Under the grant Smiley retains full rights to commercial use of the keyhole lighter.

HORTON TELLS ADVANTAGES OF METAL TUBES

The advent of metal radio tubes has removed a multitude of difficulties that have kept the radio set designer's hands tied, it was declared today by George Horton, manager of the electrical department at Horton's Furniture store, Sixth and Main streets, dealers for the new RCA-Victor radios.

"Compromises," Horton said, "are always troublesome. In fundamental radio design they throw obstacles in the path of the set designer that makes it impossible for him to get the full performance inherent in a good circuit. Highly perfected though they are, the old glass tubes involve a basic compromise—they are manufactured in accordance with a technique borrowed from the electric lamp industry, which is not concerned with the same problems as radio."

Metal tubes abolish that compromise, he said. In one stroke they sweep away countless difficulties which up to now have handicapped the set designer. For him, the road is clear ahead, Horton said.

"One of the great improvements evident in the new metal-tube sets now on the market is that due to perfect tube shielding, they are extremely quiet in operation, he continued. "They provide beautiful tone, unmarred by internal tube noise and hiss.

More than 50,000 scholarships are granted annually by American colleges and universities.

IOWANS GET FREE FUEL

ODEBOLT, Ia. — Southeastern Iowa residents are burning free fuel in their stoves and furnaces this winter, thanks to the tremendous size of the corn crop on the Adams ranch, largest in the state. Corn cobs for public use as fuel were offered free to anyone hauling them away from the ranch.

Baptist Women Extend Leap Year Courtesy To Husbands

Executive board members of First Baptist Women's society entertained their husbands at an annual luncheon Wednesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Robinson, Tustin.

All details of the affair conformed to a leap year theme. Members of the board wore valentines on their sleeves, and presented boutonnieres to their guests. Orchid sweet peas and maidenhair fern brightened tables where luncheon was served. Heart, tongue and date delight were appropriate items on the menu.

During a business session in charge of the president, Miss Lula Minter, plans were made for reciprocity day to be observed Wednesday, February 5. The president and one other guest from each society will be guests that day. The program will include the centenary pageant, "One Hundred Years Ago," celebrating 100 years of work in four mission fields. A letter was read from R. Fred Chambers of Assam, one of the centenary fields.

Present were Messrs. and Mesdames A. M. Robinson, E. A. Bell, C. G. Nalle, J. C. James, J. P. Williams, F. W. Loose, J. E. Swanke, E. L. Morris, Mac Robbins, E. Steffensen, L. C. Fairbanks, C. W. Brakeman, J. J. Vernon, W. A. Atkinson; Mesdames W. H. Harrison, R. E. Coulter, H. S. Harlow, William Dietrick, J. R. Farwell, A. F. Hill, Jessie White, R. E. McBurney, C. W. Nash, Harry Owings, H. A. De Wolfe, C. A. Harp, Mrs. Jennie Crawford and her guest, Mrs. F. H. Davis of Washington, D. C., and the Misses Lula Minter, Gertrude Minor.

Hostesses were Mesdames A. M. Robinson, C. W. Brakeman, M. M. Holmes, May Borum and Miss Mildred Marchant.

Festive Affair Marks Third Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Verl Underwood's home, 708 North Baker street, was setting for a festive occasion recently in celebration of the third birthday anniversary of their daughter, little Miss Jo Ann Underwood. Mrs. Underwood's sister, Mrs. C. W. Abernathy and their mother, Mrs. J. D. Kile assisted in hostess duties.

At the close of an afternoon of games, heart-shaped jello topped with ice cream was served with pink and white birthday cake lighted with three candles. Red and white streamers led from the chandelier to combination nut cups and place cards, which furthered a valentine motif. There were bright-hued balloons for each little guest.

Children present with Jo Ann were Rose Mary Weir, Helen Louise Weir, Marjorie Dawn Underwood, Ruby Jane Abernathy, Caroline Abernathy, Nancy Elfstrom, Jolene Wakefield, La Donna Wakefield, Mabel Fleming. Other guests of Mrs. Underwood were Mesdames J. D. Kile, L. C. Underwood, C. W. Abernathy, Fred Alph, Darrell Wakefield, Santa Ana; Mrs. Roland Weir, Anaheim; Mrs. Raymond Underwood and son, Don Louis, Orange.

MacDOWELL COLONY TALK

Leaving this afternoon for Los Angeles, Clarence Gustlin, composer-pianist, will be speaker at Los Angeles Public library upon the famous MacDowell Colony at Peterborough, N. H., and its assistance to American artists, writers and musicians. The address is part of the achievement program of the MacDowell Colony League of Los Angeles. Mr. Gustlin visited the Colony a few years ago as the guest of Mrs. MacDowell, and has long been active in promoting its interests.

CONCERT PARTIES

Unusually pleasant social courtesies for artists on last night's successful Madman concert in Fullerton High school auditorium, came both in advance of the recital and at its close. With Charles Wakefield Cadman, composer, as special guest artist, others on the program, including Irma Huffman May (Mrs. Arthur May), Clarence Gustlin and Russel Rowland of this city; Mrs. Harold Nielson of Fullerton, and Stanley Kurtz of El Modena, were entertained at dinner by Charles Ruby, of the Fullerton J. C. faculty, and were complimented at an after-concert reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ruby, 308 Marwood avenue. Charles Wakefield Cadman is to leave within a week for a concert tour of the east, where he is booked for some 50 recitals. He plans to spend May and June in San Diego and then sail for Honolulu for an extended stay.

For Birthdays

There was an intimate charm about the little dinner party with which Mrs. Herbert T. Stroschein (Hazel Guilbert) last night complimented the birthday anniversaries of her husband, Dr. Stroschein, and his brother, Fred Stroschein, of San Juan Capistrano. It was a small family group assembled in the hame of Dr. and Mrs. Stroschein in La Francita apartments, 921 Lacy street. Flowers and candles graced the table where places were indicated for the hosts, Dr. and Mrs. Stroschein, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stroschein, and Mrs. F. K. Stroschein also of San Juan Capistrano, mother of the two brothers.

Benefit Bridge

Assured of the need of an audiometer in the Santa Ana school system, to test the hearing of students, members of the Homophonous club have planned to set about securing such an instrument, and will start the fund with proceeds from a public bridge party to be held tonight at 7 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Jessie H. Cole, 1602 North Main street. The party will be a dessert bridge, and a very nominal price is being asked for tickets, so those in charge are anticipating a generous attendance. The plan is part of the project of the Orange County League of the Hard of Hearing, and Miss Ruth Bartlett, teacher, will give her assistance in every particular.

Luncheon Guests Plan Layette Shower For Class Member

It was in the hospitable big home of Mrs. C. A. Browning at 702 Hickory street, that Onward and Upward class members of Orange Avenue Christian church, yesterday assembled for a covered dish luncheon and a special gift shower which complimented Mrs. Roland Crist, a member of the class.

Sweet peas, fragrant and lovely, were used in profusion about the home and made tables especially attractive for the enjoyment of the luncheon menu. Afternoon hours were devoted to games and contests suggested by different members of the group. But chief in point of interest, was the presentation of shower gifts to Mrs. Crist, who found that her sister members had provided her with practically every need in a dainty layette.

Taking part in this friendly affair with the hostess, Mrs. Browning, her mother, Mrs. Belle Looney, and the honor guest, Mrs. Crist, were Mesdames Amy Hoffmaster, Joe Grimshaw, Lewis S. Hoff, J. H. Stickler, E. Allbright, George Morgan, C. N. Turner and her guest, Mrs. Sophia Wilhoite, of Merced county, Miss Isophene Michael, Mesdames E. L. Patton, Carrie F. Peck, Harry E. Switzler, Albert Lowen, F. Krone, H. A. Gerrard, Louis Jacobs, R. E. Jones and James Wylie.

Mrs. P. N. Chapin, 515 East Chestnut street, returned Wednesday from Long Beach, where she spent the past two days with her parents, Mr and Mrs. W. W. Kemp of Denver, Colo., who are spending the winter in California. Master Jimmie Clarady of Burbank, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clarady, is spending this week with his grandpaernts, Mr. and Mrs. Chapin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Barker, 430 South Birch street, were guests early this week of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Morris of Upland, former home of Mr. and Mrs. Barker. The occasion was a bridge party and reunion of members of a card club to honor Dr. and Mrs. Perry, moving from Upland to San Diego. The Santa Ana guests held high score in the card games and received first prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Shueller of Minneapolis, Minn., Wednesday night concluded a visit in the home of long time friends, Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Dawson, 521 South Birch street. They are visiting with friends in Anaheim, and will leave Saturday for the east.

Mrs. Effie M. Crawford of Tustin avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hazen of McFadden street, spent yesterday in Los Angeles visiting friends.

Mrs. Sophia Wilhoite of Winton, Merced county, with her small daughter and son, Rosalee and Elmer, are here for an extended visit with Mrs. Wilhoite's mother and brother, Mrs. Jennie E. Logue and Robert Logue, 1239 Orange avenue.

Among Pomona college students who are home for vacation are Miss Janet Raitt, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. Emmett Raitt, 2026 North Ross street; Miss Jean Jordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Jordon, 2006 Victoria drive; Miss Florence Liggett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Liggett, 2323 Bonnie Brae. Miss Barbara Rowland, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Fred C. Rowland, 810 South McClay street, a student at Scripps college, is home for a few days.

Six members of Ernest L. Kellogg auxiliary V.F.W., went to Sawtelle yesterday to take cigarettes and 200 magazines to veterans in the hospital. In the group were the local president, Mrs. Esther Hendrickson, and Mesdames Ruth O'Mailia, Anna McCleary, Elzora Area, Irene Stewart and Miss Norma Area.

Mr. and Mrs. Le Roy Burns, 1420 South Parton street, will go to Palm Springs tomorrow, the former to spend the weekend, while Mrs. Burns will remain at the resort for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dugan of Orange. The Dugans are spending the winter in their Palm Springs home.

Miss Marion Brownridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Brownridge 1414 North Main street, and Miss Elizabeth Downie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Downie, 2401 Santiago avenue, have been home for short vacations from their studies at Pomona college. They will join a group of college students for a weekend party at Glenn Ranch, remaining there until early next week, when they will resume their studies.

Dinner-Bridge Series In Briggs Home Brought To Conclusion

Mr. and Mrs. George Briggs added a dinner and bridge party of much charm to the week's social calendar when they received guests Thursday night in their home, 644 North Broadway. Incidentally this brought to a conclusion the series of dinner parties with which they have enlivened the post-holiday season.

Cassia with its racemes of vivid yellow blossoms, struck the dominant note in table decorations in which slim black and yellow candles were alternated. Guests were grouped in one party around the dining table, spread with heavy Chinese lace.

Mrs. Irwin F. Landis and Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth scored first and second high in the after-dinner contract games, with similar scores made by Mr. Farnsworth and Leonard G. Swales, meriting the prizes among the men.

Mr. and Mrs. Briggs included on their guest list, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. George, Mr. and Mrs. Z. Bertrand West, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mize, Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Irwin F. Landis, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard G. Swales, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Williams, Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth.

Supreme Officer Pays Visit To Damascus White Shrine

Every Shrine in the Southland was represented last night at a dinner party given in Masonic temple when Damascus White Shrine of this city entertained in compliment to Supreme Worthy High Priestess Rose M. Reed of Washington, Ia.

Flowers and tapers in pastel hues appointed tables where dinner was served to 250 members and guests. Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis was chairman of the dinner; Miss Henrietta Bohling, decorations; Mrs. Dolly Pope, tickets.

Supreme Watchman of Shepherds Fred A. Snyder of Minnesota, who was to have been an honor guest, was unable to be present. He will make an unofficial visit to the Southland February 14 at El Birah Shrine U. D., in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Sue Henry and Fred Pope, worthy high priestess and watchman of shepherds, conducted the meeting, during which the work was put on for Mrs. Reed. Mr. and Mrs. Lolie McCracken and Mrs. Anna Towner Ream were initiated into membership.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Reed will make her official visit at Pacific Shrine, Santa Monica tonight. Mr. and Mrs. Pope and Mrs. Henry will head a local delegation making the trip to the beach city.

Local Scout Council Attends Conclave In Los Angeles

Furthering their plan of activity for the new year, members of the Girl Scout Community council of this city were in Los Angeles yesterday attending a luncheon and conference at the Athletic club. Mrs. Herbert Hoover was speaker.

Southern section Scout workers, representing 18 out of 21 councils in the group, were present for the event. Mrs. A. W. Rutan, local council commissioner, and Mrs. Paul Bailey, deputy, attended a conference for commissioners and deputies; Mrs. Harry Edwards and Mrs. Ray Snyder, a conference for discussion of finances; Mrs. Edwin McFadden and Mrs. Herbert Rankin, a conference for discussion of camps.

The Santa Ana Council is sending five Girl Scout leaders, Mrs. R. R. Russick, Mrs. George Ames, Mrs. Rankin, Miss Marion Parsons and Mrs. Dorothy Kelly, to a training course to be held at Pacific Palisades this week end. The group planned to leave today, accompanied by Mrs. Rutan.

Mrs. McFadden and a group of lieutenants, the Misses Evelyn Kent, Charlotte Mock, Barbara Leebach, Alberta Greene and Mary Elizabeth Heaney expect to attend tomorrow's session at the Palisades.

Music Recital

Presenting a successful recital of his piano students this week in his North Sycamore street studio, Clarence Gustlin received a large group of guests to share the pleasures of the program.

Examples of the classic school in solo and duet work, gave prominence to such composers as Bach, Beethoven, Mozart, Schubert, Schumann and Brahms. This program was presented by Dorothy, Maxine and Jack Murdy, Jean Johnston, Barton Beek, Mrs. John L. Wehrly and Mrs. Thomas H. Rhone.

Varying the piano program were several vocal solos by Fred Garland, and a well presented history of the life and work of Franz Schubert, given by Barton Beek in commemmoration of the 139th anniversary of Schubert's birth. The youthful speaker later played with Mr. Gustlin, a duet arrangement of the well known "Marche Militaire."

One of the outstanding features of the evening was the two-piano performance of Charles Wakefield Cadman's "Dark Dancers of the Mardi Gras," by Mr. Gustlin with his former pupil, Russel Rowland, at the second piano. Mr Rowland later gave a brilliant rendition of Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in G Minor."

Pleasures of the program were discussed in detail during a social hour when Mrs. Gustlin served fruit punch and cake.

LA HABRA

Mrs. Orville roud entertained for her son, Gary Lynn, on his thrid birthday anniversary Saturday afternoon. ellow was the color motif and the birthday cake was decorated with animal crackers to represent a merry-go-round. Yellow tapers were also used in decorating the table, where the cake and jello was served. Guests were Billy Guthridge, Bobbie Williams, Ronald Meador, Keith Proud, Marlene Skinner and Dennie Proud.

Glen Dysinger's eighth grade class of boys held a class party at the social hall of the Methodist church Saturday evening. The affair was a skating party for their friends and class members and was attended by 80 children. Those in the class are Davis Brewer, Junior Scott, Walter Hodson, Leslie Robinson, Coy Davis, Troy Bellomy and Homer Graham.

A group of young people from La Habra spent Saturday evening in Long Beach skating. They were chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. James Whitelock, Gene Enyart and M. G. Renkin. Those going were Betty Lou Renken, Claudia Jones, Barbara Enyart, Wilhemine Deickmann, Glee Guthrie, Betty Lou Whitelock, Junior Scott, Sidney Ritto, Gordon Holzgrafe, Holland Creek and Jack Franklin.

Mrs. R. E. Launred and two sons, Ray and Jim, were guests Sunday of Mrs. Launer's mother, Mrs. L. A. Horner, at Manhattan Beach.

SUPPER IS HELD BY LODGE GROUPS

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 31.—Forty members of the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodges and members of their families gathered this week at I. O. O. F. hall for a 6 o'clock pot luck supper which preceded the regular Aloha Rebekah meeting. Mrs. Anna Abbott was supper chairman.

A short program with Mrs. Floy Hilborn in charge observed the birthday anniversary of Thomas Wildey, founder of the Odd Fellows' lodge. H. H. Hall, noble grand of the local I. O. O. F. lodge, gave Mr. Wildey's history. Readings were given by Mrs. F. Johnson and Mrs. Hilborn.

Miss Amy Leith, new inside guardian of the Aloha Rebekah lodge, who was not present for the recent installation service, was installed at the Rebekah meeting, with Mrs. Alice Hare as installing officer and Mrs. Nellie Murdy as her marshal.

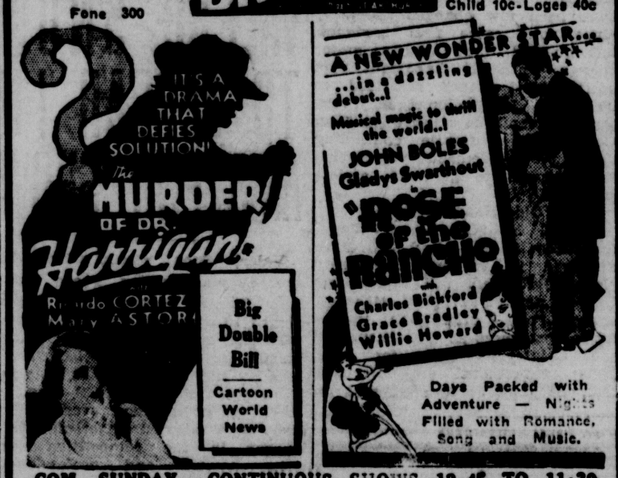

Announcement was made that the February meeting of the Aloha Rebekah club will be held February 6 at Tustin with Mrs. Baker.

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Jan. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Forster and son, John Charles, returned Tuesday from El Centro, where they have been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Pope, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Mayfield, of Alverado, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Cady had as their dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Urban Buchheim and children, Genevieve and Frances, of Midway City.

Mrs. J. H. Bickerton has left for a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Markland MacNider, of San Diego.

THE WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

GOOD GARDENING

By Mrs. H. Cardoza Sloan, Corona Del Mar

Being sound advice and interesting comment on what to plant and how to care for Orange county gardens.

"Something old and something new, Something borrowed and something blue."

SOMETHING OLD—something fine, something dependable and easy, something splendid for cutting, something every garden should have—Royal Sweet Sultan (Centaurea Imperialis). An annual of easy culture, of spreading habit and abundant bloom. The lovely fluffy flower heads in shades of rose, purple, lavender, and white plainly show their close relationship to the Bachelor's Button. One of the best annuals we grow, be sure to plant some for this summer's bloom.

SOMETHING NEW—might bring us first the flower novelties for the year selected for the various All American Awards of Merit. One which will interest us all is a dwarf Golden Gleam nasturtium. It is called the "Dwarf Double Golden Globe." The plant does not produce any runners at all, but makes a compact little mound almost solidly covered with lovely sweet-scented flowers similar to the Golden Gleam. Everyone who has enjoyed the Golden Gleam will want to find a place for this new nasturtium.

There is a new dwarf petunia, also, "Rose Gem," the plant growing only 6 inches high, but covered with 2-inch flowers of a rich rose color. A year or so ago we had "Pink Gem," to which Rose is a sister. And last year there was an exceptionally lovely petunia among these miniature forms, a dwarf, compact little plant, perhaps reaching a height of 9 inches, with beautiful frilled blossoms, looking so much like the Pelagoniums, the "Martha Washington Geraniums," that it was given their name "Martha Washington." The flowers are a blush pink with violet throat and rich red-purple veinings.

And we get another new marigold this year, called "Dixie Sunshine." Considerable allure to the name, and apparently to the flower, which is a soft, round ball of golden yellow, suggesting a chrysanthemum. Tall, sturdy, fine bushy foliage, long stems, grand for cutting—it promises to be a worthwhile addition to the constantly increasing marigold tribe.

Then we have a new aster with a name which will come easy to Southern Californians, "El Monte," a glowing crimson in color, with daintily interlaced petals, forming a large fluffy head.

A flower which sounds especially enticing to me is a new strain of the delightful Phlox Drummondi. The last word will never be said on the charm of this lovely annual. It grows so easily, it blooms over such a long period, its colors are so pretty, it keeps well when cut and is so dainty, it smells sweet, and it self-sows. The name tells what is claimed for the new strain—"Gigantea Art Shades"—larger flowers (1 1-2 inches across) and a beautiful blend of soft colors. It grows only 9 inches high. If it is really any improvement on our old Phlox Drummondi, gardeners should march to meet it with drums and banners.

There is "Wedding Bell," a pure white, to add to the colors already offered in the anual Canterbury Bells—"Blue Bell" (light blue), "Liberty Bell" (violet-blue, "Mission Bell" (clear pink), Angelus Bell" (deep rose), a chime of lovely melody these bells will ring in your garden, and, praise be, you only have to wait five or six months to hear it, instead of the year or more the biennial Canterburys required. If you like bell flowers (or perhaps you love them, as I do) don't miss these annual Canterbury Bells.

The "Heavenly Blue" impomea comes in an improved strain, earlier flowering, and the flowers stay open nearly all day; deep blue flowers shading lighter toward the center. A recent visitor from Massachusetts told me that everyone "back home" is simply wild about this new "Heavenly Blue" morning glory.

There's a new white delphinium, "Summer Cloud." (Aren't some of these names enchanting? Talk about love at first sight, you're in love with such a plant at first sound). A new dianthus, "Laciniatus splendens,' 'one of those lovely fringed garden pinks, crimson with a white eye. One catalogue calls it a "boldly contrasting glistening white eye." Fairly makes one's flesh creep! I don't think I want my pinks glaring at me with a bold, glistening eye, but if it got on your nerves you could think of some milder way of expressing its markings.

A plant from old-time gardens which has been highly favored the past few years is the Celosia. In the crested form, this is the Cockscomb, and the improved forms give magnificent plushy combs. Another type. Celosia plumosa, has feathered plumes, and a new form is offered this year, "Lilliput," growing about 15 inches tall, of compact form, and spired with weathery pointed flowerheads. "Golden Feather" is a brilliant golden yellow, and "Fire Feather" a rich scarlet with orange cast. The Celosias are quite on the spectacular order in the garden.

SOMETHING BORROWED? Well, of course, many of our plants are borrowed, or, better yet, a free gift from other lands. Here is a little South African bulb I have growing in my garden this spring. It is sometimes called the "Cape Cowslip." The leaves are long, slender, and faintly spotted. The flower stalks bear several nodding blooms, quaintly formed in two sections, set one within the other, the outer section greenish yellow tipped with green, the inner section of the same greenish yellow generously tipped with a deep purple-red. There are a number of species of this little bulb. Some have bell-shaped flowers, and in some the flowers are erect. But the favorites for cultivation have the long, slender pendulous flowers in shades of red and yellow. If you try them, plant in a rich loam, and give plenty of water and occasional liquid manure during the growing season. Dry off gradually after blooming—keep in the pots—and repot in August. The bulbs multiply rapidly, always an agreeable habit. This is rather an odd and pretty little bulb for a novelty.

A bulbous plant quite frequently grown in Southern California gardens the last few years is the Tigridia, the "Shell Flower." Its "tiger" name comes from the markings on the petals. It requires about the same culture as the gladiolus. The flowers last but a day but nearly every day brings a fresh bloom. The large, wide-open triangular blossoms are unique and attractive. They are variously colored and spotted, yellow with scarlet, scarlet with yellow, rose with white. Tigridia pavonia is the species in cultivation, offered in many hybrids. It has been grown in European gardens since the early sixteenth century, a long-time loan from Mexico.

SOMETHING BLUE? I keep a special place in my heart for blue flowers. Here are two lovely ones, not common in our gardens. Mertensia virginica, "Virginia Bells," or "Virginia Cowslip," a native wild flower lovely for naturalizing in masses, and sweet in the garden if one bears in mind that the plants go down after blooming. It grows a foot or two tall, and the flowers are borne in short, pendent clusters, twenty or more to a cluster. A pretty porcelain-blue, turning pinkish as they age. The plants like to remain undisturbed for years, so choose its location carefully. It is delightful with the spring-flowering bulbs, say the daffodils in cream and yellow.

Of late we California gardeners have been trying our hand more or less successfully with the primulas, enchanting flowers which we shall love more and more as we learn to make them at home in our gardens. One of the loveliest of them all is Primula nutans. It has Polyanthus with which we are more familiar, and the flower stems rise sturdily to lift the bloom just above the foliage. The flowerheads, the buds closely overlapping in a delicate cone shape, suggest that land of pagodas—and primroses—China. The individual florets open from the bottom of the spike first, but are retained while the buds above them unfold. The color is an exquisite blue-lavender with a sheen of silvery powder. The flowers are fragrant.

In a rock garden Primula nutans would be happily at home, but equally so in a shaded spot in the foreground of the border, along the path edge. In all the large family of primulas there is none lovelier than this little plant.

MIXING BOWL

Just suppose you have made the oyster loaf, described yesterday, and have all the crumbs scooped out of the loaf, left over. It would be sinful to waste them, so, just dry them out in a slightly warmish oven, and roll to a coarse crumb. Measure out two cupfuls and use them for—

Crumb Griddle Cakes

3 cups scalded milk
2 cups crumbs soaked in hot milk and allowed to cool
1 rounded tbsp butter added while milk is hot
2 tbsps sugar and
½ tsp salt
3 egg yolks and 2 whites well beaten
1 white beaten stiff and folded in
1/3 cup flour sifted with
1/2 tsp baking powder, added last.

Whip milk, crumbs, butter and sugar until the mixture is smooth. Add beaten eggs when cool enough, then the flour and last of all, fold in the beaten white. Fry in butter and serve with maple syrup of jelly.

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon

Bread and milk, de luxe.
Calory total .....370.

Scald 1½ cups milk from which the cream has been taken, quarter three slices of heated zwieback, or very thin brown toast. Strew over the top a diced peeled apple and one teaspoon of sugar.

If any of the children are home for lunch, they will love this way of serving bread and milk.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Rice Fritters

1 cup finely mashed cooked rice
3 eggs, beaten to a thick froth
½ cup flour sifted with
1 tsp baking powder and
1 scant tsp salt
1/4 cup sugar

Mash the rice with the back of spoon or fork. Combine with the beaten eggs, sift dry ingredients together and whip in. Drop by spoonfuls into deep hot fat and serve with a hot lemon or orange sauce.

If only a few fritters are needed, ice-box the remainder and use next morning for breakfast hot cakes. Freshen the batter by adding ½ tsaspoonful of baking powder dissolved in two tablespoons hot water.

• • •

Cheese Souffle

2/3 cup grated sharp cheese
2/3 cup top milk, scalded
3 eggs, whites beaten separately
2 tbsps butter
4 slices bread, crusts removed
1 tsp prepared mustard
Salt and cayenne to taste

Combine diced bread and scalded milk and stir until smooth. Add butter and cheese and stir until both are melted. Take off the fire, cool slightly and stir in the beaten yolks mixed with mustard, salt and cayenne. Fold in the whipped whites, pile the souffle into a buttered shallow casserole and bake in a quick oven until firm at sides and soft in center. Serve at once.

Would you like to get away from the eternal creamed this-and-that served at small afternoon lunch parties? Serve this cheese souffle, baked individually in ramekins or in fluted paper cases well buttered before filling with souffle.

YOKE OF SOFTLY STYLED FROCK TRIMS UP IN TWO BECOMING WAYS

PATTERN 2657
By ANNE ADAMS

Here's a softly styled all-occasion frock that mother or daughter will find equally becoming. Daughter, who needs a semi-tailored dress for school, is sure to spy the thumbnail sketch of pattern 2657, which trims its yoke with buttons, and tops it with a jaunty Peter Pan collar. Both will more than likely favor the version with smart, upstanding collar and neat bow tie, to say nothing of the slenderizing skirt seams. Both will find the soft fullness of the sleeves most fattering, and the dress, as a whole, easy to make. Choose a bright alpaca crepe for the more tailored version, and triple sheer for dressier occasions.

Pattern 2657 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 takes 3 1-2 yards 39 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. BE SURE TO STATE SIZE.

Be sure to order OUR SPRING PATTERN BOOK for smart new clothes that'll fit you and your needs to a "T"! Gay, practical frocks to cheer you at work. Lovely party frocks and sports clothes to flatter you at play. Collars, blouses, skirts for multiplying costumes. Chic slenderizing styles. Patterns for tots. Fabric and accessory news. PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND A PATTERN TOGETHER, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Address orders to The Register, Pattern Department, Santa Ana, Calif.

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR NATURAL "BULK"

Needed to Correct Constipation*

Most people recognize the seriousness of constipation. But too often they dose themselves with strong cathartics that often actually lead to chronic constipation.

The natural way to check common constipation is to correct the condition which causes it—usually, insufficient "bulk" in meals.

How can you get "bulk"? Fruits and vegetables have some. Bran has more. The most popular product of this kind is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle in action. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

This delicious cereal is a wholesome food. Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will usually correct constipation due to insufficient "bulk." If not relieved, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN gives you gentle internal exercise. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

TRAVEL TALK PRESENTED FOR CHURCH GROUP

ORANGE, Jan. 31.—England as seen when hiking or bicycling through the small villages of the country was described by Calvin Flint, dean of men of the Santa Ana Junior college, in a travel talk given at the First Methodist church Thursday night as a part of the fourth of a series of church night programs.

Flint stated that third class passage on large boats today is better than first class accommodations 15 years ago. The luxurious appointments of the modern liner, such as the "Normandie," great French liner, must be seen, he stated, as the ship cannot be adequately described.

Such boats lose money on each trip, he said, the "Normandie" loosing $50,000 on each trip, so has been subsidized by the French government.

The speaker stressed the importance of making friends in countries visited and in keeping up contacts with friends in various countries. He told of visiting Exeter, a small town of England where a mound probably covering buildings erected by the Romans, is still unexcavated.

He told of the Norman cathedral at Exeter. Norman architecture differs from the Gothic, he explained, in being less decorative. Gothic architecture he said, has many fluted towers and wide buttresses to offset their weight.

Next Thursday at 7 p. m. Flint will speak on "Russia Propaganda." The attendance was so large that the audience went to the church auditorium, which was nearly filled.

MRS. GEORGE SMITH HOSTESS TO CLUB

ORANGE, Jan. 31.—Mrs. George Smith was hostess to members of the Calendar club in their January meeting yesterday afternoon.

Spring flowers decorated the home and centered the large table about which the guests gathered for refreshments after an informal afternoon spent in doing fancy work. It was announced that Mrs. Claudia Boyer will entertain the group next month.

Special guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Flora Boggs, of Long Beach, a visitor in the home of Mrs. Laura Bowen, and Mrs. Blanche Campbell, sister-in-law of the hostess, who assisted in serving. Members present were Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Claudia Boyer, Mrs. William Barnes, Mrs. S. M. Wiley, Mrs. C. L. Benson, Mrs. Margaret Tulene, Mrs. Florence Ober, Mrs. Clara Whiteman, Mrs. Belle Condon, Mrs. Charlotte Adams and the hostess, Mrs. George Smith.

NEW TOASTMASTERS' SECTION ORGANIZED BY WOMAN'S CLUB

ORANGE, Jan. 31.—Under the direction of Mrs. Fred Lentz, curator, a new section of the Orange Woman's club was organized yesterday as the Second Toastmasters' section, with an initial membership of 12. Officers were elected, as follows: President, Mrs. Gertrude Douglas; vice president, Mrs. Nora Finley; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. M. L. Reed; parliamentarian, Mrs. Elfriede Shannon.

A dessert luncheon was served, a courtesy of the mother club and the table was centered with silvered foliage with delicate blue shadings in blue and silver vase. Slim blue tapers were on each side of the vase. Mrs. A. H. Halleck, parliamentarian of the Woman's club, was present and assisted in the capacity of adviser.

Following the election of officers plan for programs were discussed. Mrs. Douglas selected as the program committee for the year, Mrs. Margaret Sipherd and Mrs. Ida Mae Palmer.

The first program will be given February 13, when a noon luncheon will be served, the second and fourth Thursdays of the month having been selected as meeting days of the section. Roll call responses will be facts about St. Valentine or original valentines and two talks are to be given. Mrs. Amy Palmiter will speak on "George Washington," and Mrs. Rex. Shannon will speak on "Abraham Lincoln." Mrs. Bertha Neale will be toastmaster.

A list of suggested programs was complied and subjects included a wide variety of topics. Membership for the present is to be limited to 25. Mrs. E. H. Smith, club president, who was invited to be present, was unable to attend. Sessions are to open at noon and are to close promptly at 2 p. m.

Those joining the new group were Mesdames Bertha Neale, Ida Mae Palmer, Anna M. Wood, Myrtle Reed, Nora Finley, Margaret Sipherd, Gertrude Douglas, Elfrieda R. Shannon, Mary E. Terry, Cora B. Wood, Army Palmiter and Marah Adams.

CONDITIONS IN JAPAN TOLD BY L. A. MINISTER

ORANGE, Jan. 31.—Dr. Walter Fagerberg, pastor of the First Baptist church of Los Angeles, was the assembly speaker at a church night program given Thursday at the First Methodist church.

Taking as the subject of his talk that of "Japan," the speaker traced briefly the history of the country from the time of the opening of Japanese harbors to the outside world in 1853, with the first boats to enter those of America.

In 81 years Dr. Fagerberg said great strides have been made along all lines. The government, he stated, is unified in a universal respect and adoration of the emperor. But 16 per cent of Japan is tillable, and all of the islands combined have a lesser area than the state of California, he said.

Dr. Fagerberg stated that while Japan's acquisition of Manchoukuo is not to be condoned, it can be seen that needing additional territory for its growing millions, it was the only thing Japan could do.

He decried the use of newspaper columns for propaganda and not for news. When nations become friendly enough to divide territory as it is needed, war will end, he stated.

Mrs. Calvin Flint offered two violin solos at the opening of the session and prayer was given by the pastor of the church, the Rev. Arthur T. Hobson. R. C. Patton presided.

SUNSET BEACH

SUNSET BEACH, Jan. 31.—Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Baxter and daughter, Betty, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Howerton, of Los Angeles, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richardson and daughter, Rhoda, spent the week end at their summer home on Ocean avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Butler, of San Bernardino, spent the week end at their summer home on Park avenue.

Miss Betty Baxter was the guest of Miss Charlotte George, of Surf Side Colony, recently.

Miss Jane Chamberlin entertained the Sub-Deb club recently at her home on the ocean front. Following the business meeting four new members of the club were initiated. They were Miss Chamberlin, Miss Paula Lowry, Miss Doris Dodge and Miss Virginia Tharpe. The other members present were the Misses Shirley McClure, Gwendolyn Swift, Blanch Nelk, Dorothy Vincent, Dorothy Proctor, Jean Tarbox and Margaret Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Keeler entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bishop and son, Eddy, at the Owen cottage over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Graham, of Montebello, have rented a cottage at 2161 Ocean avenue. They intend to spend the week ends here.

Miss Paula Lowry, Miss Mary Varley and Miss Betty Baxter attended the performance of the Globe Theatre players at Fullerton Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L Slauser and daughter, Grace, of Piedmont, are spending a week at 961 Ocean front.

Mrs. George Hastorf entertained with a luncheon in Long Beach recently. Those present were Mrs.

BRIDGE PARTY IS ENJOYED IN DIERKER HOME

ORANGE, Jan. 31.—Friends from both Santa Ana and Orange entered with enthusiasm into plans for a celebration last night of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Alfred E. Dierker, 522 North Pine street. All arrangements for a party in the Dierker home were made by Mrs. Hollis Showalter and Mrs. Hugo Lemke, who took Mr. Dierker into their confidence in order to make certain of the honor guest's presence.

When Mrs. Dierker returned from choir practice, it was to find guests assembled in the darkened home, ready to call "birthday surprice" as she entered. Mrs. Showalter and Mrs. Lembke had planned games, decorations and refreshments, distributing gay little tally cards for bridge. Scores of couples were tallied together and first prize was awarded Mr. and Mrs. James Goode. Miss Rose Allen and Dr. C. M. Baker took second prize and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Jenkins took third. The traveling prize went to Mrs. Goode.

Many attractive gifts were presented Mrs. Dierker and her anniversary was again suggested at the refreshment hour. The dining table was spread with lace and centered with a gleaming birthday cake nested in sweet peas. Small candles on the cake added their light to that of the formal arrangement of tall tapers extending from the cake to the table's edge. Chocolate sundaes, wafers and coffee were served with birthday cake.

In the party were Messrs and Mesdames Alfred Dierker, Hollis Showalter, Hugo Lembks, James Goode, Theron Willis, Harold Pee, Gerald Shryock, Nelson Dierker, Vern Jenkins, Clarence Bandick, Dick Robinson, Miss Rose Allen and Dr. C. M. Baker.

Residents of Orange and vicinity are invited to bring or telephone their news items to The Register's Orange office, 106 West Chapman. The phone number is Orange 1128.

CONFERENCE OF BAPTISTS WILL OPEN ON FEB. 9

ORANGE, Jan. 31.—A conference will be held at the First Baptist church February 9 and will be continued throughout the week with sessions at 2:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. each day with the exception of the initial day, when services will be held at 9:30 a. m. and again at 7:30 p. m.

Conducting the conference will be the Rev. L. L. Letgers, of Philadelphia, who conducted a similar conference here last year. The Rev. Mr. Letgers served for many years as a missionary. The conference speaker is also an author well known in church circles.

Everyone is extended a cordial invitation to attend the sessions, according to the pastor, the Rev. H. F. Sheerer.

FORUM PROGRAM MONDAY

ORANGE, Jan. 31.—Mrs. Edith Gilbert Warren, pianist, will be the guest artist at the regular meeting of the Young Women's forum Monday evening, it was announced today, and will present a varied musical program.

The meeting will be held at the home of Miss Edna Bargsten at 259 North Orange street and each member has been asked to bring a guest for the occasion. The program is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific

In the brief period of four months, the program of "World Affairs," featuring highly informative discussions by Dr. Adamantios Polyzoides, has so grown in public favor that many luncheon clubs, women's organizations and groups of students make it a point to dial the program every Friday evening when it is broadcast by KHJ from 5:15 to 5:30 o'clock.

Three Hollywood stars—Edward Arnold, Lee Tracy and Binnie Barnes—will be heard in a radio "preview" of scenes from this forthcoming production, "Sutter's Gold" during Dick Powell's "Hollywood Hotel" broadcast over KHJ at 6 o'clock tonight.

"Three Who Loved," a tense story of war and emotions in which Betty Lou Gerson and Don Ameche are caught in a web of love and self-sacrifice will be presented by the First Nighter at the "Little Theater Off Times Square" in the broadcast over KFI at 7 tonight.

Little Jack Horner, that old story-book of childhood, is the newest victim of the pitiless spotlight of John Hix's "Strange As It Seems" investigations. Tonight, on that program from KHJ at 7:45, Hix will disclose that Jack Horner was a very real person, and, stranger still, the facts about the magnificent plum, in the modern acceptance of that word, that he extracted from a very real pie.

SATURDAY

The second concert for children and young people featuring the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Ernest Schelling will be broadcast over KHJ at 8:15 a. m. Saturday.

The Byrd Mass, containing some of the best music of William Byrd (1542-1623) will be performed, in part, by the St. Dunstan Singers when they are heard from Philadelphia over the Columbia network including KHJ at 11:45 a. m. Saturday. The portions to be sung are the Gloria, Sanctus Benedictus and Agnus Dei. The group wil chant these in English.

Frank E. Hering, managing editor of the Eagle Magazine and well-known as a scholar, teacher and humanitarian, will speak on the subject "The Background of Social Security Legislation" over KHJ at 1:30 p. m. Saturday.

The STRANGE CASE of JULIA CRAIG

by Nard Jones

Copyright NEA 1936

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Julia Craig, secretary to George Woodford, lawyer, is ambitious to become a night club singer. Julia shares an apartment with Amy Sanders.

Peter Kemp, young lawyer, is in love with Julia, but they quarrel and she tells him everything is over between them.

Woodford gives a yacht party and asks Julia to come as a singer. The guests include Cintra Lee, dancer; Mrs. Joseph, widow; Hugo Nash, and Royal Nesbitt.

Julia goes, later regrets it. The yacht lands on Evergreen Island where Woodford has a lodge. Julia meets Tom Payson, camping nearby, who offers to help her get away.

The men go hunting and Nesbitt is injured. Woodford's party leaves immediately to get him to a doctor.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER V.

In a little alcove behind the orchestra platform, Julia stood nervously waiting for the moment when she would make her first professional appearance as a singer. She wore her white satin, the gown that Amy liked because it made the most of Julia's splendid figure. Her hair was different than she had ever worn it before—a last-minute, trembling inspiration before the mirror in the room that Tony Latta said was hers. Almost all her life, since she was a little girl, she had wanted to wear her hair like this—and never had. It was piled high on her head, brushed up from the back of her shapely neck, a sophisticated coiffure that was neither new nor old but which could be worn with an Empire gown as easily as with the clinging white satin.

For Julia had not forgotten her interview with Henri Lamb, the owner of the Green Club. "Take off your hat," he had said—and he had said it as if it were important. She had got at least something from that terrible afternoon when Peter Kemp had betrayed her ambition with a sealed note to Henri Lamb. If they did not like her singing, then perhaps they might somehow like her. Standing there in the little alcove, listening to the last plaintive wail of a modern tune, Julia clung to this.

The cabaret room of Tony Latta's gambling ship was literally packed. Men and women were at the tables, ranged along the cocktail bar, and some stood by the entrance. Julia wondered if it was always like this, or whether Tony had whispered it around that there was to be a new entertainer. But, at any rate, they had been drifting into the cabaret for the past half hour. By now the air was gray-blue with cigarette smoke, drifting lazily in the shafts from the baby spotlights that ranged along one wall.

Suddenly from her vantage point Julia saw one of the baby spotlights go amber, streaming a pool of light just in front of the band platform. The music stopped, and Julia heard the leader say, "Ladies and gentlemen—I want to introduce a girl who is new to you, but I think you're going to like her, Miss Julia Craig—singing, 'You Are My Lucky Star'."

That was all, and then she heard Latta's voice by her shoulder. "Lots of luck, Julia. Remember that Tony will be listening to you.

* * *

She nodded nervously, walked out onto the floor and under the amber spot. She was dimly conscious of a sea of faces—of white discs that seemed somehow suspended between the ceiling and the floor. They were no more than that, at first, and then came a tiny ripple of applause from one of the tables. Others joined in, so that it became a wave—a warm, friendly wave that washed up to where Julia stood and made her feel alive and happy and sure of herself. She smiled; and when she smiled the applause grew louder.

She would never remember quite how she got through the song. All day long she had been afraid that she might be unable to remember the lyrics. But the words seemed to rush up inside her, come neatly in order as they had been written. In that first moment her voice was weak and uncertain, but by the time she reached the chorus she had attained that husky quality which is the essential medium of all our modern songs.

As she finished, the applause came again—still louder, and prolonged. In the little alcove she ran into the arms of Tony Latta who was fairly hopping up and down for joy.

"You are—what is it?—a wow, Julia! Listen to them! You have to go back right away." He smiled his wide, pleasant smile. "Walk around among the tables, Julia. They like that."

More courageous now, Julia took up the chorus again and this time she walked slowly and rhythmically among the tables—the amber spot following her every movement, making her golden and mysterious and unattainable, making her unrecognizable as the girl who had, such a little while before, been a lawyer's secretary.

But as she drew near one of the blue-clothed tables she almost stopped singing, in her sudden surprise. A familiar face watched her, a strong, good-looking face whose tan was accentuated by the white shirt-front below it.

Tom Payson smiled, nodded ever so slightly, and Julia returned his smile. She remembered as she passed on, still singing, that Payson's smile had seemed slightly ironic. And a corner of her mind told her, even while she sang, that he would have a right to feel piqued.

* * *

She made her exit to the alcove, where Tony Latta chuckled. "I am afraid you will spoil by business a little," he said.

For a moment Julia's heart sank. Had she been a failure again?

"You will bring many people to the ship," Latta went on, "but I cannot let you sing too much, or no one will be in the gambling rooms!"

Julia laughed happily. "Do you really think I'm—I'm all right?"

"All right!" exclaimed Latta. "Listen to them buzz out there. I am afraid I will soon lose you to a big night club in town." He looked at her soberly. "You are tired. This first time has been a strain—and anyhow we do not want to give them too much for a start."

"You mean that's all I have to do tonight?"

Tony nodded. "Maybe you would like to take a taxi boat home now—and tell your girl friend all about it?"

"That's just what I'd like to do, Mr. Latta."

"Remember . . ." he wagged a pudgy finger, "nobody calls me Mr. Latta unless they do not like me."

Julia laughed. "All right, Tony."

"Look! Already an admirer is coming to see you. I'd better leave."

Julia looked up to see Payson entering the alcove. "Well!" he said, smiling, "you escaped from Evergreen Island, then?"

"Didn't you get my note?"

His eyes widened. "Note? Where did you leave a note?"

"On the beach," Julia said. "It wasn't much of a note, I'll admit. I wrote it on a piece of driftwood and left it where I hoped you'd land with your boat. You see, Woodford decided suddenly to leave. One of the men was hurt while they were out hunting.

"I didn't see the note," Payson said, "Because I didn't come back in my boat. After the run-in with your friends I decided the best thing to do was get down to the settlement in the out-board boat—and hope I'd find you when I came back with a vessel that would bring us both into town." He smiled ruefully. "But, as you may suspect, I didn't find you."

"I'm sorry," Julia said. I'm afraid I was an awful lot of trouble."

* * *

He looked down at her curiously. "I don't mind trouble—for a girl like you. But you have me puzzled, you know."

"Puzzled? Why?"

"Well, I had you tagged as an innocent who'd got in over her head and then wished she hadn't. Now I find you singing on Tony Latta's tub."

Somehow the remark disturbed Julia. Her cheeks flushed scarlet. "I don't think singing on Tony Latta's boat has changed me any," she defended. "Especially since this is my first night."

"Skip it," laughed Payson. "Let's have a cocktail."

"Thank you. But I'm taking one of the taxi boats back to town right away."

"Date?" inquired Payson.

"Then let me go with you."

"That's nice of you, but I'll take me just a minute to change."

She joined Payson by the boarding steps and together they descended to one of the waiting taxi boats. "Are you sure you wouldn't rather stay?" asked Julia.

"Not if you aren't going to," Payson laughed. "And anyhow, I think Tony will be glad to see me leave. I had a run of luck tonight."

"Did you win a lot?"

Quite a sum. About three thousand."

"Three . . . thousand?" repeated Julia. And then she began to laugh.

"What's so funny?"

"I was just thinking—that's as much and I could earn at Woodford and Brooks in three years!"

"Tony has one or two stiff tables. Of course, a fellow can't do that every night. And as for you, Miss Julia Craig, that won't seem so much to you before very long. I think you're going places."

Payson's long, dark roadster was parked near the wharf and within a few minutes after landing they were at Julia's apartment building. He walked upstairs with her, and at the door of her apartment asked, "When may I see you again, Julia?"

"I don't know, really," she had to tell him. "This job is going to keep me pretty busy, I'm afraid."

"Well . . . if nowhere else, I can see you at Latta's."

He held both her hands in his a long moment before he said good night.

Stamp News

By I. S. Klein

FIRST day cover fans still have plenty of time to send prepared covers to Washington for the new bi-colored 16-cent airmail special delivery stamp to be issued Feb. 10. This is the regular blue 16-cent airmail special delivery stamp now in use, except that it has been given a red border, to make it more easily recognizable.

To get first day covers, address not more than 10 envelopes to yourself and send these, with U. S. postal money order of 16 cents for each cover, to the Postmaster, Washington, D. C., and a request that he mail these with the new stamps on the first day of issue.

Washington will be the only first day city.

* * *

Last year was probably the greatest in postage history. A British dealer records 2168 new issues throughout the world, a great many of them commemorative. The silver jubilee of King George's reign accounted for nearly 10 per cent. Total postage stamps listed approximate 60,000.

Get ready for a surprise announcement of extension of the trans-Pacific line beyond the Philippines. You may have very little time to prepare covers.

ANNUAL DANCE DRAWS CROWD TO CLUBHOUSE

ANAHEIM, Jan. 31.—The President's Birthday ball held last night in the Anaheim Elks clubhouse attracted a large crowd, dancing being enjoyed following the broadcast of President Roosevelt's message over the radio.

A program of entertainment was presented by the Lions club under the direction of Herb Eldred and Roy Mendoza. The grand march was led by Mayor and Mrs. Charles Mann. Music was furnished by Wallie Webb's orchestra.

The ballroom was decorated in the Colonial motif, decorations being in charge of Junior Ebell and 20-30 club members. Seventy per cent of the proceeds will be kept for local work in the prevention and control of infantile paralysis, with 30 per cent sent to national headquarters for research work.

1500 ATTEND PROGRAM OF CADMAN, COUNTY MUSICIANS

FULLERTON, Jan. 31.—More than 1500 were present Thursday night for a program given by Charles Wakefield Cadman, American composer, and a group of Orange county musicians as one of the Dr. Charles L. Ruby's public forum features.

Dr. Ruby introduced Leland Green, of Garden Grove, president of the Orange County Music Teachers' association, who in turn introduced Dr. Cadman. Mrs. W. Jackson Scott had assisted in arranging the program.

With the composer accompanying Stanley Kurtz, of El Modena, sang three of his compositions, "The Builder," "Service or Joy" and "Glory."

Mrs. Harold Nielsen played as an organ number "Legend of the Canyon," which was followed by the Phi Alpha quartet singing "The Land of the Sky Blue Water."

"Dark Dancers of the Mardi Gras" was played as a two piano number by Clarence Gustlin and Russell Roland, of Santa Ana.

Irma Huffman May, of Santa Ana, sang "Spring Song of the Robin Woman" from the tragedy "Shanewis;" "Canoe Song" and "Candle Light" and as an encore and request number, "At Dawning."

The concluding group consisted of three piano numbers by the composer, two from manuscript, "Marche Grotesque" and "The First Snow-fall" and "Andante from A Major Sonata," and two encore numbers, a "Blackfoot War Dance" and a number that he described as "part Indian and part Spanish," "Shadows of the Night."

The Phi Alpha quartet is made up of Mrs. W. Jackson Scott, Mrs. William Montague, Mrs. Edmund Salter and Mrs. William Fiscus.

AMATEURS WELCOMED

FULLERTON, Jan. 31.—Mayor William Hale and two city councilmen, T. K. Gowen and George Lillie, yesterday extended official welcome to Major Bowe's amateurs as they came to Fullerton for presentation of a program.

LEAGUE PARTY TONIGHT

WINTERSBURG, Jan. 31.—A party at which the valentine motif will be used is being held this evening by the Intermediate Epworth league society of the local Methodist church at the church social hall. Jessie Case is president of the organization and the Rev. Joseph Thompson is sponsor. Games and refreshments are planned for the party by the committees in charge. The hour of the party is 7:30 o'clock.

HELEN E. AMES, GLENDALE MAN WED IN CHURCH

FULLERTON, Jan. 31.—Miss Helen E. Ames, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ames, of 120 Kemp avenue, was married Thursday to John T. Collins, of Glendale, son of John T. Collins, of Lewiston, N. Y., at a quiet wedding at St. Mary's Catholic church, where the Rev. Father Paul Early, assistant pastor, read the ceremony in the presence of a large group of friends and relatives.

Attending her were Mrs. Garden Drew, of Fullerton, matron of honor, and Miss Frances Barber, of Fullerton, and Miss Ruth Reed, of Alhambra, bride's maids, all three wearing blue taffeta dresses with circular flounces. They also wore hats of blue that corresponded to the cap of the bride's veil cap in cut.

Attending the bridegroom was John Alden Bratten of Los Angeles. The bride was accompanied to the altar by her father.

Preceding the reading of the nuptial mass, Gordon Drew sang "At Dawning" and during the mass he sang "Ave Maria." Miss Margaret O'Hanlon played the wedding march and recessional, and for the solo numbers.

As the bridal party left the church, they passed beneath a military honorary saber arch formed by the bridegroom's friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ames served a wedding breakfast at a reception at their home. Decorations were in white and Miss Rowena Reed of Los Angeles and Mrs. Harry Vaughn, of Fullerton, poured.

CLUB GROUP HEARS TALK ON FLOWERS

FULLERTON, Jan. 31.—Mrs. C. W. Petty, of Laguna Beach demonstrated the principles and rules of flower arrangement and Gordon Handfield of the Gordon nurseries of Anaheim told of the ways of overcoming difficulties in flower growing at the meeting of the Garden Section of Placentia Round Table club at the home of Mrs. W. J. Travers on North Raymond avenue Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. J. R. Wallace presided at the meeting. Mrs. Travers was assisted in hostess duties by Mrs. S. S. Twombly and Miss Avis Knowlton, of Fullerton.

Others attending were Mrs. Joe Blanchard, Mrs. William Kammerer, Mrs. J. W. Cohoe; Mrs. W. W. Blackmer, Miss Emily Cuff, Miss Mary Sumwalt, Mrs. Mary Timmons, Mrs. H. S. Berkey, Mrs. C. A. Cuff, Mrs. Arthur Staley, Mrs. C. O. Petty, and Mrs. Lloyd Pendleton, of Fullerton and Placentia.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—The stock market today rose to new high ground since 1931 as the industrial list caught up with the recent rise in rails and utilities.

Trading again was around 3,000,000 shares, bringing the month's total to around 67,000,000 shares, the best for any month since July, 1933. It was the best January since 1929 and except for that year a record for the month.

The Dow Jones industrial average reached 149.52, up 2.54, a new high since 1931; the railroad average 46.20 up 0.66, a new high since 1934 and the utility average 32.25, up 0.54, a new high since 1933.

Volume approximated 3,300,000 compared with 3,010,000 shares yesterday. Curb sales approximated 1,208,000 shares compared with 1,260,000 shares yesterday.

Bonds also were active, featured by rails and utilities. Sales of around $20,000,000 par value today brought the month's total to around $476,000,000, the best January in history and the best month since December, 1920.

The American dollar descended in terms of foreign currecies. The French franc was just under the level at which it would be profitable for the French to take U. S. gold. The Dutch guilder was at the gold point but no shipment had been arranged up to a late hour. Commodities were mixed with grains firm and cotton weak.

Greatest activity centered in the utilities. Their average was whirled into new high ground since 1933 early in the day. They held their gain which ranged to more than a point in the active issues and to more than 4 points elsewhere. New tops were made by Consolidated Gas, Columbia Gas and General Gas and Electric A, the most active issues. A long list of others bettered their tops.

Chrysler corporation was the sensation in the motor shares. It rose for a year or more.

steadily in active trading and made its best showing in the last few minutes of trading when shorts covered frantically. The stock sold at its best level since 1929 where it was up 3 points from the previous close. Word had gone around that Chrysler directors had been in secret session and that a highly favorable announcement would be made after the close.

1. The rates per hour, indicated above, are based upon the local prevailing rates per day, being 8 times the above scheduled rate per hour. Hourly rates of pay, based upon 8 hours per day, for a full day or a fractional part of a day. The per diem wages for a fractional part of a day shall be the applicable rate per hour multiplied by the number of hours worked on said day other than for overtime and/or Sundays or Legal Holidays.

2. The wage rate per hour for overtime work for each of the above classifications shall be the hourly rates, quoted above, multiplied by 1½ times the number of hours worked by employees in excess of 8 hours on any one calendar day other than Sundays and/or Legal Holidays.

3. The wage rate per hour for work on Sundays and/or Legal Holidays shall be the applicable rate per hour, as scheduled above, multiplied by 2 times the number of hours worked by employees on Sunday and/or Legal Holidays, Sundays and/or Legal Holidays as herein referred to, shall be deemed to be all Sundays, January First, February Twenty-second, May Thirtieth, July Fourth, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day, and December Twenty-fifth.

4. The wage rate per hour for overtime on Sunday and/or Legal Holidays for each of the above classifications shall be the hourly rate established for Sunday and/or Legal Holidays work times 1½ the number of hours worked, in excess of eight (8) hours on Sunday and/or Legal Holidays, by the employees.

5. All foremen shall receive a wage rate which will be 10 per cent more than the highest wage rate received by the employees working under his supervision.

The foregoing schedule of per diem wages is based upon a working day of eight hours. The hourly wage rate prescribed hereinabove is the per diem rate divided by the aforementioned number of hours constituting a working day.

It shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom the contract is awarded, and upon any subcontractor under him, to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen and mechanics employed by them in the execution of the contract.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders must submit with their bids, a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders must submit with their bids a tentative schedule showing the classes of labor and the number of each class he will require in the performance of the contract.

Each bid shall be made out on a form to be obtained at the office of the architects; must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for 5 per cent of the amount of the bid made payable to the order of the Cypress School District, Cypress, California; shall be sealed and filled with the Clerk of the Board, on or before Feb. 3rd, 1936, at seven o'clock P. M., and will be opened in public at or about eight o'clock P. M. of that day at the Cypress School located on Lincoln Blvd., in the City of Cypress, County of Orange, California.

The above mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into contract if awarded the work, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested so to do by the School District of Cypress.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 50 per cent of the contract price, and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to 100 per cent of the contract price, said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works and to the Cypress School District. A list of such surety companies is on file with the Architects and with the P. W. A. on the eighth floor of the Washington Bldg., Los Angeles, California.

The P. W. A. and the Cypress School District reserve the right to reject any or all bids and/or waive any irregularity in a bid.

Unless otherwise required by law, no bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

Dated: January 17, California, 1936.
(Signed) D. T. MACKAY.

CIVIL SERVICE

In an article published in the "Nation's Business", written by Kenneth Coolbaugh, on the subject of "Public Servants," he points out very specifically that the jobs were secured not at all on merit but on the recommendation of some politician; that after the jobs were secured, promotions were based on recommendations of politicians and not on merit. He even gives one case where a public official, who lived in a certain ward and wanted to move, was told that he dare not move, as his ward-boss needed him in that district. The worker moved and the ward-politician told him, "I'll get you if it's the last thing I do." Six years later he fulfilled his threat.

This is the reason why government ownership and government control cannot be as efficient as private ownership where promotions and positions are given on merit, if the private concern is to be successful and stay in business.

In this connection of Civil Service, Lawrence Sullivan has an article in the Atlantic Monthly which sets forth that the present administration has added 235,000 persons to direct full time federal payrolls and only 107 among the new persons are under civil service. The rest are chosen under the political clearance plan of Mr. Farley's, which means on a purely political basis. Mr. Sullivan points out that in 1884 only 10.5 per cent of those in the government civil service were under statutory merit regulations. By 1904, this had increased to 51.2 per cent; Woodrow Wilson increased it to 57.2 per cent; Coolidge to 74.8 per cent; Hoover to 80.8 per cent. In 1928, the civil service commission happily reported that every President since the civil service law was enacted had extended its scope by executive order. This "march of merit," Mr. Sullivan says, was unbroken for half century, but since the present administration has so vastly added to the number of employes, the percentage of competitive places has slipped back to 57. We are now where we were in the period of 1906 and 1908. Mr. Sullivan asserts there are 295,000 jobs that have been made available by the Farley system and that this figure takes no account of the 428,000 engaged on wholly federal construction or the 439,753 CCC employes; nor does this take into account the 110,000 employes at $5 per day on the AAA, for whose retention the administration is now striving.

Civil service has gone nearly back to Andrew Jackson, where "To the victor belong the spoils."

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

A glance at the laws passed by Congress that have been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, is interesting.

The total laws enacted have been 24,300. The total laws declared unconstitutional, up to this time, have been 74.

During the early history of the country, the records show only three adverse decisions on laws passed in the first 72 years. In the past 50 years, there have been 49 reversed decisions. There was only one President, during that time, who did not have any reversed decisions and that was President Hoover. Wilson's administration had 10 reversed decisions. In 34 months, there have been 10 reversed decisions under the Roosevelt administration. Not all of the reversed decisions of the Supreme Court have related to the social or economic welfare of the nation. Many, while important, were of a more or less technical nature and contained no political implications.

During Grant's administration, there were 14 laws declared unconstitutional—more laws than under any other President.

ONE OF THE FEDERAL LAWS CAUSING UNEMPLOYMENT

In Thursday's paper, in the continued editorial discussing the laws that caused unemployment, we said we would discuss a graduated income tax in today's paper.

It is conceded by most everyone that a graduated tax on income would improve the living standards of the great mass of people more than any other tax during the first period of its enactment. It does this because it taxes production instead of consumption. If the "corn" that is to be used as "seed corn" from large production is consumed to support the government, there will be more corn left to eat and consume during the first year. Thus, the standard of living would be higher, by taking from the large producers a large part of what they produce and which automatically would go back into production, than it would be by taking taxes from the consumer. It automatically follows, as day follows night, that reducing the "seed corn" that is to be planted to support the government will greatly decrease the production and, consequently, greatly decrease the consumption each succeeding year.

In 1913, we passed a graduated income tax. The first few years, it was very moderate and took only a very small fraction from the big producers, but, as things became scarce, and harder and harder for the great mass of people to get, larger and larger fractions were taken from the big producers, until now, in certain localities, with federal, state, county and city taxes, the rate of the tax is as high as 90 per cent of the larger portions of incomes from the big producers.

When a man, who is trying to produce new and different things, goes into any line of enterprise, he is running a great risk that his enterprise will become a failure. Under the present income tax, if he loses millions, the loss belongs to himself. If he happens, one time out of ten, to be successful and makes millions, the government, as stated above, will take as high as 90 per cent of it from him. By the law of average, he loses so often and his losses belong to himself that he can no longer afford to go into the experimental and precarious enterprises, which are necessary for progress and lower living costs. The country thus loses the management of these people, whose judgment in the past has shown they were better able to produce than others, and their wealth is turned over to the federal government to be managed and operated by the politicians. This is done by buying government bonds, state, county or federal, on some of which there are no taxes. Thus, the graduated income tax causes the Nation to lose the managing, the ability, the initiative, the genius, and the men of courage and foresight of the exceptional few. As a result, the physical volume of production per capita, since this law has been in effect, has been greatly reduced. For the 75 years before this law was in effect, the physical volume of production per capita increased at the compound rate of 1.73 per cent per year.

From 1913 to 1929, even with all of the stimulation of the war, this compound increase of 1.73 per cent dropped to the compound increase of 64 per cent. In other words, the rate of increase from 1913 to 1929 was only 40 per cent; as rapid as it was for the 75 years prior to 1913. The per capita physical volume of production, by the last available figures, as reported by Warren N. Pearson of Cornell University, has dropped so that in 1932 it was 20 per cent less than it was 18 years prior, or in 1913. During this same period, the physical volume of production per capita in Japan increased 250 per cent. It cannot be contended that this increase in Japan was due to the lower living standard at the beginning of the period, because India, with an even lower living standard, receded in their physical volume of production during the same period.

There, of course, were other causes than the income tax to bring this condition about. The main ones that are generally believed to be instrumental in causing the reduction have been previously mentioned; namely, the Clayton Amendment to the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, which permitted labor to combine to restrain production without violating the Sherman Anti-Trust Law and the Federal Reserve Act that made it profitable for people to go in debt and spend before they produced, taking the wealth and management out of the hands of the thrifty and putting it into the hands of the gamblers and spenders. These three laws have been largely instrumental in curtailing production and it automatically follows that living standards cannot be higher permanently than the total production of the country.

Tomorrow, The Register will set forth a tax system, federal and state, that is believed would reverse this downward trend of production into a gradual increase of production. It is called a graduated tax on the unsocial use of wealth—or on consumption.

YOUTH SETS ITS COURSE

A high school club in an eastern city plunged squarely into the problem of sex relationships the other day and came out with a few pointers which even older people might well use.

These boys and girls, utterly frank, decided that "necking" has no part in the early relationships of youth, "but that a kiss, if delivered with a true sense of admiration and respect for the girl, is perfectly all right."

From this they went a step further to recommend double dating, but advise against steady company while in high school. They concluded that "necking has no place in love, and respect is lost when you see how far you can go."

Cheers to them! Here is something for the stuffy Victorians to think about. Call the modern youth what you will, but it certainly stands on its own feet and pulls no punches.

Surely, there is little need to tremble in concern for a younger generation that can recognize its own dangers and pitfalls.

When The Democrats Assemble

Day By Day In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1935)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—President Roosevelt once asked the radio audience, in view of the charges about vanishing constitutional rights, to point out what liberties they had lost.

Today it is possible to give the answer on one of the most fundamental rights guaranteed by the Constitution, namely the right of petition, long held sacred as a prerequisite to a democracy, as contrasted with a dictatorship.

For the securities and exchange commission has at last, after several weeks' delay, promulgated, as required by act of congress, the rules and regulations whereby persons employed in a given industry may approach their members of congress and converse with them on "any matter" affecting their business.

It is true the limitation applies for the moment only to one industry, but if this law is valid and is not knocked out some day by the Supreme Court of the United States, then the limitations may be extended to any business or industry or group of any kind or its representatives that the congress in an arbitrary whim may decide to exclude from the right of petition.

The act in question is the Public Utility Holding company law, which requires the SEC to issue rules governing the right of representatives of "registered" holding companies or any operating companies they own to talk with members of congress or with the SEC itself. By a curious irony of circumstances, the "registered" holding companies which have complied with the utility law since December 1 last are caught in the dragnet of red tape which makes them submit to a limitation on their right of petition, whereas the employes or lobbyists of other utility holding companies, which have refused to "register" because their attorneys told them the law in entirety is unconstitutional, are free to come and go on Capitol Hill, and are not subject to the law's provisions.

A more inequitable application of the federal statutes or a more unequal situation could hardly be devised. But the problem involved in the removal of the right of petition is deeper than the controversy over the utility lobbyists. As a matter of fact, the law and the regulations constitute a reflection on members of congress themselves, for the implication is that senators and representatives do not know how to protect themselves from improper lobbying or persuasion. It indicates rather that the administration would like to keep tabs on congres by means of a record of just who talks with members of congress and on what subjects.

For the new regulations, though at the present requiring only a brief statement of the nature of the business that a private individual may have with his senator or representative, can easily be enlarged by the issuance of another regulation asking for every single item in the conversation, including the exact number of cigars smoked or cigarettes passed from one to the other. Once the power to invade the privacy of conversation is granted, the precedent is set for unlimited espionage.

The effort to regulate the activities of lobbyists is in itself commendable, but it would be more effectively accomplished if the penal code with reference to bribing congressmen or of the rules about congressional activities in private companies, etc., were to be made more stringent. Instead of restricting congress itself, the law has curtailed the rights of the citizen. The precedent is very important because what is done in one industry or group can be done in another and thus the rights of the citizen, which are guaranteed by the Constitution, to petition for redress of grievances could be gradually eliminated.

The Constitution specifically declares that the right of petition cannot be "abridged." The SEC states that its rules "impose no limitations on the extent to which holding companies and their subsidiaries may be represented before congress or either commission," but the new rules do require them nevertheless to make certain statements about the "nature" of their activities. Just how a person who opposes a piece of legislation or who wishes to discuss pending legislation can do so freely when he knows that the name of the congressman and the "nature" of the conversation must be reported is difficult to imagine.

With the modern system of political reprisals against congressmen why do they obey the mandates of the executive branch of the government, it cannot be said that, after the issuance of the SEC rules, the citizen has the same unlimited right of private conversation with his representative in congress as he had last week.

Any limitation amounts to an abridgement, especially when it diminishes the area of effectiveness of the persons who wish to present their petitions. But what is unfair about the whole business is that the New Deal does not permit the public to know the nature of the activities of spokesmen for and emissaries sent by the executive branch of the government to the Capitol Hill to influence the passage of legislation. Nor is it necessary for the executive agencies to disclose what reprisals with respect to patronage or the award of public works projects are mentioned to congressmen whose votes are being solicited.

Perhaps one of the most interesting features of the new SEC rules is the bold way in which the SEC undertakes to amend an act of congress. The commission frankly states what it thinks congress meant, what persons it intends to exempt and what activities may be carried on without filing the forms prescribed. There's nothing in the law which permits the commission to exempt anybody and it is hardly credible that congress could constitutionally delegate to the commission the right to say just how and where the right of petition to congress by the citizen shall be abridged or enlarged or even exercised.

But to require the citizen to submit to a maze of red tape and to disclose to persons other than those he talks with the nature of all his conversations with the members of the legislative body is an encroachment on the right of petition, which, if unchallenged now, can eventually mean the dispearance of this right altogether. It is but one step toward the squelching of opposition, which is always a precursor of dictatorships.

Little Benny's Note Book

By LEE PAPE

I was around at the firehouse tawking to Mr. Riley the hooken ladder driver and I asked him wich was the most dangerous to be, a sailer in a storm or a fireman at a fire, and he said, Well, I guess life on the old sailing ships was pritty dangerous, but it seems these new floating palaces are as safe as the Bank of England. I werked on one once, he said.

What doing? I said, and Mr. Riley said, O, odd jobs. For a while I ran the express elevator that ran from the 20th deck all a way up to the dance roof, and then for a spell I was a conductor on the train of cars that used to run around the promenade deck to pick up any passengers that got tired and wanted a lift. That's what I was doing, in fact, when we hit the iceberg, he said.

G, did you sink? I said, and Mr. Riley said, Dont make me laugh. I'll admit, though, I felt a little skittish myself when I saw a half a dozen full grown icebergs looming up over the aft horizon, and I reported to the captain and I said to him, Captain, icebergs, sir.

What did he say? I said, and Mr. Riley said, His ony werds was, Full steam ahoy. That's what he thawt of icebergs, and the next thing I knew that ship was making 400 notts an hour, pritty near full speed, and then bang, we gave an iceberg such a sock that a minute later every one of the 40 decks was covered yards deep with the neetest little ice cubes you ever saw. Believe me that captain was a cute one, Mr. Riley said.

Do you mean he did it on purpose? I said, and he said Most assurantly, and then he headed strate for the equator and traded in those ice cubes to the natives for ivory and pearls werth a king's ransom. I've still got an ivory rocking chair and a pearl button hook left from my share, and now I've got a little polishing to do, Mr. Riley said.

Meaning good bye.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

TEMPERATE YOUTH

We no longer have prohibition laws against the use of alcohol. We are supposed to use our own will in the matter of drinking. Some do and some, unfortunately, have no will in relation to the appetite that craves the stimulation of strong drink. This bit of pleading is addressed to the Youths and Maidens in their late teens and early twenties. Don't drink.

Don't drink because you have everything that drink can give you now and without the price of suffering and sorrow that drinking is certain to exact sooner or later. Drink will spoil your color, take away your appetite, lower your standards of behavior, cheat you in selling all that is best in you for a cheap drink.

If you could see what the thoughtful grown up person sees when you have been drinking you would not be pleased with yourself. You look like another person, not yourself. The expression of your eyes, the set of your face, the movements of your body are governed, not by your own fine mind, your own high intelligence, but by something that is lower than the animals.

You young people of today, cannot afford to drink because you use high powered cars. A drunken driver is a potential murderer. If you think that is a harsh statement look up the statistics of motor accidents and be convinced.

Don't imagine that you are different, that such an accident cannot befall you. That sort of accident comes out of alcohol. When you drink it to enliven the party you surrender your clear brain, your controlled will, your steady nerves, your high principles of conduct. You have nothing to say about what happens once you have surrendered your will to the amount of alcohol it takes to make you "out of control.' What would you have? Be in yourself and out of yourself at the same time?

Are you afraid your laugh will not be as merry, your enjoyment not as keen, if you do not stay things up with a couple of drinks? If you could hear your laugh, see your actions, stimulated by alcohol, you would be quite willing to hold fast to your own unstimulated self ever after.

The time to be sorry about a catastrophe is before it happens. Think of the girl you are driving home, think of the other people on the road, of your own family who must bear the burden of your mistakes, and go without the drink. Human behavior is none too good even with the brain in good working order and the mind clear and at its keenest. None of us can afford to lessen our power by the least degree. What good is alcohol to Youth? Youth that has beauty, joy, power untold without benefit of drugs? Hold to Youth, the greatest force in the world and let the dangerous deceitful drink go

In the Long Ago

From The Register Files 25 Years Ago Today

JANUARY 31, 1911

At an election held today in Anaheim to vote on sewer, and light and water plant, the bond proposition was carried almost unanimously.

Damage by lightning was experienced last night in Los Angeles for the first time in many years, if not in the history of the city. The high power line from the Kern River field was struck by lightning putting out thousands of electric lights. The Southern California Edison company immediately switched in current from Lytle Creek and Santa Ana lines, and gave the city sufficient light during the night.

Edward Davies was resting comfortably today at his home on West Seventeenth street, after having been seriously wounded yesterday at the Bergman and Obarr slaughter house near the Santa Ana river. Davies was standing nearby when a bullet fired to kill a steer, struck the animal on one of its horns, was deflected and entered the hip of the onlooker.

Register Clearing House

Editor, Register:—I have been a subscriber of The Register during the eleven years that I have lived in Orange county, and have of course noted the change in policy that took place with the recent change of ownership. I have no doubt there is a demand, particularly in Orange county, for such a paper as you are now publishing, but I happen to know many of your old subscribers who are not pleased with the change.

I always like to read the other side therefore your economic theories do not bother me, and I feel that you are sincere in them, but I wonder how you could trade Glenn Frank for David Lawrence. There is such a sameness about his complaints, day by day, that I should think that even those who agree with him would tire of the monotony.

I am one who voted for Calvin Coolidge and twice for Herbert Hoover, and I did so with no illusions, not having the slightest doubt that the ideas of the industrialists would control their administrations, but I felt that as long as the leaders of business and industry could keep the wheels turning, it would not be wise to make a change. However, these same leaders were as thoroughly discredited early in 1933 as any set of men ever were, and now that they are trying to stage a come-back—by means of a full war chest—they find columnists like David Lawrence quite useful in spreading propaganda, while the conscientious voter, seeking no personal gain may be confused by such propaganda.

Many of us do not object to editorials that run counter to our own opinions; these are only expressions of opinion, but a newspaper that is converted into a propaganda sheet loses its usefulness.
